Little Rock Gets Set For Special Vote

Governor Advances Date To Sept. 27 In Integration Fight

By The Associated Press

Tense Little Rock was preparing today for a special election on school integration Sept. 27 while pupils at two schools in Charlottesville, Va., awaited word on whether classes would open Monday.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas advanced by 10 days the date for the vote but said it had nothing to do with any public demand to reopen the four high schools he closed in the face of a U.S. Supreme Court integration order.

The governor also said the Eisenhower administration wanted to avoid use of troops to enforce mixing of the races in the schools because "they know it is illegal."

Faubus referred to a statement issued after Tuesdays conference at Newport, R.I., between U.S. Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers and President Eisenhower on continuing Southern resistance to the high court's ruling on school desegregation.

Rogers said the administration was delaying immediate action in the hope that public pressure would force reopening of schools in Arkansas and Virginia.

But, he said, if local authorities did not act to reopen the schools the federal government then would take whatever legal action it could. He did not rule out the possibility of federal troops being called out again, as they were in the Little Rock crisis last year.

Faubus said, "I have always maintained that the use of federal troops is illegal. They know it is illegal and that is why they are trying to avoid it. But there is no way to stop the illegal use of force when that force is overwhelming."

Hopes Pressure Forces Reopening

Ike Withholds U.S. Legal Action Over Integration

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — President Eisenhower hopes public pressure will force reopening of closed schools in Arkansas and Virginia—and so has ordered federal legal action withheld "at this time."

The President's position in the school shutdown controversy over racial integration was set forth at the summer White House late Tuesday.

After a 40-minute meeting with Eisenhower, Atty. Gen. Rogers told a news conference in connection with the wait-and-see policy the President approved: "I think it is clear to anybody that to just try to solve this problem by legal methods alone, just by law suits, is not very satisfactory."

For that reason, Rogers said in a prepared statement, the administration "is withholding a decision as to appropriate legal moves at this time."

Rogers, the government's chief law enforcement officer, made it clear there is likely to be federal legal action later if the schools closed in protest against the Supreme Court go-ahead on integration are not opened.

Rogers also talked of announced Justice Department plans to enlist the help of U.S. marshals for preservation of law and order in communities where there is resistence to admittance of Negroes to white schools.

But he did not rule out use of federal troops again if the marshals should find themselves unable to check violence such as broke out in Little Rock, Ark., a year ago. That violence caused Eisenhower to dispatch troops to Little Rock's Central High School.

In Little Rock, Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus commented: "I have always maintained that the use of federal troops is illegal. They know it is illegal and that is why they are trying to avoid it."

Faubus ordered four Little Rock high schools closed shortly after the Supreme Court last Friday called for integration to proceed without delay at Central High. One Virginia school has also been shut down.

In Virginia, Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. commented when told of the administration hope that public pressure will force opening of the schools: "It is the old familiar technique of divide and conquer."

Then in a reference to Russia's Premier, Almond added: "I am sure this would meet with the full applause and approbation of Mr. Khrushchev."

New Offer Might Solve Pact Dispute

No Way Of Holding Workers On Job, Reuther Declares

DETROIT (AP) — United Auto Workers at Ford plants across the country began walking off the job at a 10 a.m. strike deadline today even as the union said there had been a new offer which might solve the dispute.

UAW President Walter Reuther told newsmen that the company had added something new. He said the strike machinery was in motion and that the union had no way of holding its workers on the job past the strike hour.

Ford reported 13 of 86 plants were affected by walkouts or shut down entirely today.

John S. Bugas, Ford vice president in charge of industrial relations, told newsmen he would not describe Ford's latest move as a new offer but rather "a refining and modifying process in the past few days."

Carl Stellato, president of the 50,000-man Ford Local 600, biggest unit in the UAW, left the bargaining session to address a mass meeting at the huge Ford Rouge plant in suburban Dearborn.

Stellato told newsmen the strike was on and said he had received reports that walkouts were beginning at Rouge.

Stellato told newsmen that the company had proposed a settlement of the retroactive pay issue, one of the major points at issue in the long negotiations, by offering to make its contract effective as of July 1. Ford workers had been without a contract since the old pact ran out June 1 and the union had demanded that any new agreement be retroactive to that date.

Stellato also said Ford had offered to increase its basic pensions from $225 to $235 for each year of service. It also offered to continue the annual improvement factor which gives workers six cents an hour or 2½ per cent of their hourly wage, whichever is greater.

The improvement factor is related to technological advances due to automation and other developments.

Stellato said another unsolved issue is plantwide seniority.

Dispute Now Up To State

Hillcrest School Transfer Rejected By County Board

The Columbiana County Board of Education Tuesday night formally rejected the petitioned transfer of Hillcrest area to Wellsville School District in a 3-to-1 vote, and authorized referring the dispute to the State Board of Education.

Atty. Donald Elliott of Rogers, member of the board, supported the transfer of Hillcrest area, now a part of the new Southern Local School District.

ATTY. ELLIOTT said he believes the State Board would approve the transfer anyway, and he said he feels the county board would face adverse public opinion in opposing the move.

"There are more important subjects the board should be concentrating on," he said.

The Hillcrest petition had been presented last year, but was turned down because the board ruled it lacked sufficient signatures. However, a court ruling upheld the validity of the petition and the board was instructed to act on the petition or refer it to the state board.

At last night's meeting the petition was opposed by Ben Weingart, president, along with Olin Sanor and Mrs. Freeman Strabley.

Sanor said he understood about 27 pupils in a section north of the Hillcrest area would not have a school to attend, since No. 16 and Highlandtown Schools lack facilities to accommodate them.

PAUL TALBOTT, representing the Hillcrest area, said the section was not included in the transfer proposal since a large number of people in the section wished to remain with the county system. Sanor said he would not support the transfer if it would isolate these other youngsters.

County Supt. James L. McBride, clerk of the board, said the estimated valuation of the Hillcrest territory is $450,000. It is a part of the former Yellow Creek Local School District which was combined with Salineville and Wayne Local districts to form the new Southern Local District.

McBride said the current estimated valuation of Southern Local territory is $5,802,591, and would amount to $5,352,591 if the Hillcrest area were withdrawn.

—:—

McBRIDE SAID the estimates were only approximate, since the county auditor was unable to provide the figures for personal property and utilities for the district. The real estate valuation of Hillcrest was listed as $394,380 by the auditor's office.

The county board also faces a move by Hillcrest area residents to have the court declare the formation of the new Southern Local District invalid.

A petition was filed in Common Pleas Court Monday to have the new district dissolved and to enjoin the county board from recreating it. The petition claims the consolidation was invalid because action still was pending on the Hillcrest proposal to merge with Wellsville.

—:—

IN OTHER action last night, the board accepted the resignation of Harry Greenwood of Apples Corners, and authorized a letter of commendation be presented him for his service to the board.

Greenwood, clerk of the Beaver Local Board, resigned because of the pressure of other duties.

Supt. McBride said the latest enrollment figures for the county system show 1,266 high school students, 4-141 grade school pupils and 74 kindergartens, for a total of 5,481.

Atty. Elliott was named to attend a meeting of the Ohio State Boards of Education Association meeting at Columbus Nov. 11-13.

—:—

LORIN RUFF, county elementary school counselor, reported on curriculum guides prepared by the administrators and teachers in the county. He said the guides will require the approval of the state board.

The next meeting will be Oct. 21.

Judge Orders Virginia School Admit 4 Negroes

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP)—U.S. Dist. Judge Albert M. Bryan today ordered Stratford Junior High, an Arlington County white school, to admit four Negroes next January.

Judge Bryan turned down the applications of 26 other Negroes for transfer to various white schools in the county.

Bryan said that in weighing these cases "the court cannot say that as to 26 of the pupil-plaintiffs their application for transfers to white schools were refused without substantial supporting evidence."

Strike At Mansfield

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Some 2,000 workers at the Mansfield Tire & Rubber Co. walked off their jobs Tuesday. The strike by Local 17 of AFL-CIO United Rubberworkers Union was caused by a dispute over job rating procedures, officials said.

U.N. Tackles Seating Issue Of Red China

Lebanon's Pro-West Malik Elected As Assembly President

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The U.N.'s powerful Steering Committee today faced up to its first major test—the question of seating Red China—after the election of Lebanon's pro-Western Charles Malik as General Assembly president.

Debate over the Red China issue undoubtedly will drag in the dispute over Nationalist China's offshore islands in the Formosa Strait.

The United States was confident the U.N. will follow past procedure and vote to shelve the Peiping issue for another year. The Americans have made plain they are determined to prevent Red China from "shooting its way" into the U.N.

The Assembly opened Tuesday, electing Lebanon's foreign minister, Malik, as its president.

Malik's 45-31 first-ballot victory over Sudan's nationalist Foreign Minister Mohammed Ahmed Mahgoub, supported by all the Arab League states but Lebanon, was seen as a triumph for the United States and its allies.

Just before the vote, Czechoslovakia announced she was pulling her delegate, Jiri Nosek, out of the race. She made clear the nine-nation Soviet bloc was throwing its support behind Mahgoub.

Malik's open pro-Western stand had alienated many Asian-African states, especially those who support President Nasser's United Arab Republic. Many had believed this opposition—plus open Soviet support for Mahgoub — would cost Malik the election.

Schools' Time Dilemma Due Airing Friday

Councilmen and members of the Board of Education will meet Friday at 4:30 p.m. at City Hall to discuss suggestions that East Liverpool return to Eastern Standard Time Sept. 28—instead of Oct. 26, as scheduled—because of the hazard to children on their way to school in early morning fogs.

The question was raised Monday night before both Council and the Board of Education, but neither arrived at a decision. As Council already had agreed to seek a meeting with the board to discuss the need for a new school crossing guard at E. 3rd and Walnut Sts., it was decided to discuss the time question at the same session.

Council President B. E. Warner completed arrangements yesterday afternoon for the joint meeting. He said several representatives of both Council and the school board already have agreed to attend. The meeting will be in the Council Chamber.

Until about three years ago, East Liverpool's Daylight Saving Time ended on the last Sunday in September. Then Council voted to extend it annually through the last Sunday of October to keep in step with most other cities in this area and most of the Eastern United States.

Irate parents have told the Board of Education the fall fog hazard for children would be lessened greatly if the city returned to standard time at the end of September. It would mean schools would be starting classes an hour later by sun time, giving morning fog a chance to clear.

To suggestions that schools start classes an hour later in the forenoon through Oct. 26—even though the city remains on fast time—the Board of Education said it feels the plan would be impractical for a variety of reasons.

County School Head Seeks Cutoff Of DST

County School Supt. James McBride advised the Columbiana County Board of Education Tuesday night he has prepared a letter to be sent to county school executives in a move to restore Eastern Standard Time to reduce the threat of school bus mishaps because of fog.

Woman Tells Of 2 Murders While In Car

Schuck Identified As Slayer By Fiancee Of One Of Victims

Trial of Arthur G. Schuck of Baden continued today in Beaver County Court after a woman who survived the ambush slaying of two men identified him as their killer.

Shuck, 41, went to trial Monday for the mistaken identity murder of William E. Engle, 44, of Ambridge and Vincent J. Quigley, 34, of Harmony Township. He is being tried only for the Quigley murder.

The state had claimed the Baden steelworker waited in the street for the return of Edward Ragozine of Economy with whose wife the prosecution claims Schuck had been having an affair.

Prosecutor J. S. Walko told the jury earlier Schuck mistook Engel's car for that of Ragozine, pumping several bullets from a deer rifle into the slowly moving sedan.

Angeline Pugliano, who was spared in the hail of bullets that felled her companions, identified Schuck as the gunman in a sobbing recital yesterday of the events the night of the double murder.

She said she and her fiance, Engel, drove to the Horseshoe Bar at Ambridge where Quigley was a bartender.

Quigley had missed his bus and they volunteered to take him home. She said they missed his driveway and they turned around to go back to Quigley's home. As they neared the property, she said she heard a bang.

She said a second shot hit the windshield. Engle was hit but Quigley got out of the car. She said there was another shot and Quigley fell back in.

She said she crouched down and a "man put his face close to the window and looked in. It was Schuck," she testified.

Asked to point him out, she leveled a finger at the defendant.

She said she went for help, although injured by shattered glass and splinters from the bullets. She was hospitalized for 10 days.

Earlier, at a standup in the Beaver County Jail, she had picked out Schuck as the assailant.

'Important Business' Ahead, McDonald Says

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — United Steelworkers delegates today opened the third session of the union's ninth constitutional convention forewarned by their president to expect "important business."

USW President David J. McDonald declined to elaborate on the statement he made in the closing minutes of Tuesday's session. He held a brief meeting with the Executive Board immediately afterward.

Driver Denies Police Charge

Hanoverton Motorist To Appear Saturday

James E. Marchbanks, 34, of Hanoverton R. D. 1 was scheduled for a hearing Saturday at 9 a.m. in Municipal Court when he entered a plea of not guilty today on a reckless driving charge filed by police after his arrest at 12:25 this morning.

The two officers who arrested Marchbanks alleged he drove north on Broadway, crashing a traffic light to make a turn onto St. Clair Ave. Then he made a right turn onto E. 6th St., heading the wrong way on the one-way street, they reported. Marchbanks turned off 6th St. onto Dresden Ave. "at a high rate of speed and squealing of tires," the officers said. Marchbanks is free on a $31 bond.

Two other motorists forfeited bonds.

James Lowe of Gilson Ave., a member of the Board of Education, forfeited an $11 bond on a charge he drove the wrong way on Locust St., East End, a one-way thoroughfare. He was cited at 4:22 p. m. Tuesday, officers said.

Philip E. Greene Jr., 30, of Pittsburgh, a tractor - trailer operator, forfeited a $31 bond on a reckless driving charge. He was arrested at 5:15 a. m. Monday after he drove at a high rate of speed to pass another tractor-trailer on E. 3rd St. at Walnut St., police said.

Through Communist Fire

Nationalists Get 2 More Supply Ships To Quemoy

TIAPEI, Formosa (AP) — The Chinese Nationalists succeeded today in delivering two more shiploads of supplies to the besieged Quemoy islands through a hail of Communist fire.

The Nationalist Defense Ministry said two LSTs unloaded all their cargo without suffering damage.

The ships were escorted across Formosa Strait by Nationalist warships and by vessels of the U.S. 7th Fleet, which remained outside the three-mile limit as usual.

The giant American aircraft carrier Essex arrived in Formosan waters after steaming a quarter of the way around the world from the 6th Fleet off Lebanon.

The 65,000-ton Essex is slated to replace one of the four attack carriers already in the 7th Fleet.

Red shelling went into its 26th day and apparently is aimed now at knocking out Quemoy's artillery, which has been trying to silence Red guns on the mainland.

The Defense Ministry said the 1,861 Communist shells that hit overnight were mostly of deeper penetration quality than the anti-personnel fragmentation shells used earlier.

The Reds now are using Soviet-made 203mm. and 212mm. guns instead of the 152mm. weapons previously aimed at Quemoy, ordnance experts reported.

The larger guns apparently were brought up in an effort to blast the concrete underground emplacements which have for the most part withstood the Red fire.

On Formosa opposition continued to the U.S.-Communist Chinese talks in Warsaw in which a settlement of Formosa Strait tension is being sought.

The Foreign Affairs and National Defense committees of the Control Yuan, highest Nationalist supervisory body, came out with a resolution opposing the talks.

Bomb Hoax Forces Fire Drill At School

EAST PALESTINE — Precautions were taken at East Palestine High School Tuesday after a phoned call that a time bomb had been placed in the building and set to explode at 2 p. m. Apparently it was a hoax.

School officials called police and firemen who made a thorough search during the noon hour but found nothing.

It was then decided to hold a fire drill from 1:50 p. m. until 2:10 p. m. and it was extended to the four other public schools and the parochial school.

Nothing happened by 2 and the children returned to classes 10 minutes later.

Supt. T. R. Hersh commented "This may be the work of a crank, but we can't afford to gamble with the lives of students." There are 550 students in the high school.

365 Qualified In Vote Signup

City's Registration Boosted To 10,736

A total of 365 East Liverpool voters qualified in a citywide precinct registration campaign Tuesday, boosting to 10,736 the number enrolled for the Nov. 4 general election.

The all-out drive arranged by the County Election Board was held in each of the city's 32 polling places from 11 a. m. to 3 p. m. and from 5 to 10 p. m. Of the total, 106 signed at the Election Board's office, which means 259 were registered in the precincts.

Rain that started early yesterday evening cut heavily into the expected turnout, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the board, pointed out. The board had 10,371 voters on its rolls when the drive opened yesterday.

The First Ward gained 104 voters; Second, 81; Third, 143, and Fourth, 37. All the electors signed at the Election Board office were credited in the initial breakdown to the Third Ward, as it also served as the registration point for the so-called City Hall precinct—3-B. When the new voters' cards filled out at the Election Board are placed in the proper ward totals, the figures will be altered.

Unqualified voters still have 6 business days in which to register. The deadline is Sept. 24. If a 33-a-day average is maintained through the deadline, the total will hit 11,000, O'Hanlon pointed out.

In yesterday's drive, four precinct registration points signed only one voter each. They are 3-G and 4-C, 4-E and 4-G.

6 More Days To Register

TO BE ELIGIBLE TO VOTE in East Liverpool at the Nov. 4 general election, you must register with the County Election Board at 129 W. 6th St. if:

You haven't voted at a primary, general or special election in the last two years; you've changed your name by marriage or court action; you've changed your residence since the last election; you've become 21 since the last election or will be 21 on or before the general election date.

A new resident is qualified to vote after he has resided in Ohio a year and in Columbiana County and his precinct 40 days prior to election day. You must transfer your registration if you have moved since voting last.

Deadline for registration is Wednesday, Sept. 24. The Election Board office will be open daily from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Schools' Time Dilemma Due Airing Friday

Councilmen and members of the Board of Education will meet Friday at 4:30 p.m. at City Hall to discuss suggestions that East Liverpool return to Eastern Standard Time Sept. 28—instead of Oct. 26, as scheduled—because of the hazard to children on their way to school in early morning fogs.

The question was raised Monday night before both Council and the Board of Education, but neither arrived at a decision. As Council already had agreed to seek a meeting with the board to discuss the need for a new school crossing guard at E. 3rd and Walnut Sts., it was decided to discuss the time question at the same session.

Council President B. E. Warner completed arrangements yesterday afternoon for the joint meeting. He said several representatives of both Council and the school board already have agreed to attend. The meeting will be in the Council Chamber.

Until about three years ago, East Liverpool's Daylight Saving Time ended on the last Sunday in September. Then Council voted to extend it annually through the last Sunday of October to keep in step with most other cities in this area and most of the Eastern United States.

Irate parents have told the Board of Education the fall fog hazard for children would be lessened greatly if the city returned to standard time at the end of September. It would mean schools would be starting classes an hour later by sun time, giving morning fog a chance to clear.

To suggestions that schools start classes an hour later in the forenoon through Oct. 26—even though the city remains on fast time—the Board of Education said it feels the plan would be impractical for a variety of reasons.

Woman Tells Of 2 Murders While In Car

Schuck Identified As Slayer By Fiancee Of One Of Victims

Trial of Arthur G. Schuck of Baden continued today in Beaver County Court after a woman who survived the ambush slaying of two men identified him as their killer.

Shuck, 41, went to trial Monday for the mistaken identity murder of William E. Engle, 44, of Ambridge and Vincent J. Quigley, 34, of Harmony Township. He is being tried only for the Quigley murder.

The state had claimed the Baden steelworker waited in the street for the return of Edward Ragozine of Economy with whose wife the prosecution claims Schuck had been having an affair.

Prosecutor J. S. Walko told the jury earlier Schuck mistook Engel's car for that of Ragozine, pumping several bullets from a deer rifle into the slowly moving sedan.

Angeline Pugliano, who was spared in the hail of bullets that felled her companions, identified Schuck as the gunman in a sobbing recital yesterday of the events the night of the double murder.

She said she and her fiance, Engel, drove to the Horseshoe Bar at Ambridge where Quigley was a bartender.

Quigley had missed his bus and they volunteered to take him home. She said they missed his driveway and they turned around to go back to Quigley's home. As they neared the property, she said she heard a bang.

She said a second shot hit the windshield. Engle was hit but Quigley got out of the car. She said there was another shot and Quigley fell back in.

She said she crouched down and a "man put his face close to the window and looked in. It was Schuck," she testified.

Asked to point him out, she leveled a finger at the defendant.

She said she went for help, although injured by shattered glass and splinters from the bullets. She was hospitalized for 10 days.

Earlier, at a standup in the Beaver County Jail, she had picked out Schuck as the assailant.

County School Head Seeks Cutoff Of DST

County School Supt. James McBride advised the Columbiana County Board of Education Tuesday night he has prepared a letter to be sent to county school executives in a move to restore Eastern Standard Time to reduce the threat of school bus mishaps because of fog.

Beaver Local Schools Will Go Back To EST

A return to Eastern Standard Time for all Beaver Local Schools Sept. 28 was authorized by the Board of Education Tuesday night.

George VanHorne, executive head, said the move was made to provide safer operation of school buses on foggy mornings. He said the earlier return to standard time was contemplated prior to the truck - school bus accident last week near Unity in which a boy was killed.

'Important Business' Ahead, McDonald Says

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — United Steelworkers delegates today opened the third session of the union's ninth constitutional convention forewarned by their president to expect "important business."

USW President David J. McDonald declined to elaborate on the statement he made in the closing minutes of Tuesday's session. He held a brief meeting with the Executive Board immediately afterward.

Driver Denies Police Charge

Hanoverton Motorist To Appear Saturday

James E. Marchbanks, 34, of Hanoverton R. D. 1 was scheduled for a hearing Saturday at 9 a.m. in Municipal Court when he entered a plea of not guilty today on a reckless driving charge filed by police after his arrest at 12:25 this morning.

The two officers who arrested Marchbanks alleged he drove north on Broadway, crashing a traffic light to make a turn onto St. Clair Ave. Then he made a right turn onto E. 6th St., heading the wrong way on the one-way street, they reported. Marchbanks turned off 6th St. onto Dresden Ave. "at a high rate of speed and squealing of tires," the officers said. Marchbanks is free on a $31 bond.

Two other motorists forfeited bonds.

James Lowe of Gilson Ave., a member of the Board of Education, forfeited an $11 bond on a charge he drove the wrong way on Locust St., East End, a one-way thoroughfare. He was cited at 4:22 p. m. Tuesday, officers said.

Philip E. Greene Jr., 30, of Pittsburgh, a tractor - trailer operator, forfeited a $31 bond on a reckless driving charge. He was arrested at 5:15 a. m. Monday after he drove at a high rate of speed to pass another tractor-trailer on E. 3rd St. at Walnut St., police said.

Through Communist Fire

Nationalists Get 2 More Supply Ships To Quemoy

TIAPEI, Formosa (AP) — The Chinese Nationalists succeeded today in delivering two more shiploads of supplies to the besieged Quemoy islands through a hail of Communist fire.

The Nationalist Defense Ministry said two LSTs unloaded all their cargo without suffering damage.

The ships were escorted across Formosa Strait by Nationalist warships and by vessels of the U.S. 7th Fleet, which remained outside the three-mile limit as usual.

The giant American aircraft carrier Essex arrived in Formosan waters after steaming a quarter of the way around the world from the 6th Fleet off Lebanon.

The 65,000-ton Essex is slated to replace one of the four attack carriers already in the 7th Fleet.

Red shelling went into its 26th day and apparently is aimed now at knocking out Quemoy's artillery, which has been trying to silence Red guns on the mainland.

The Defense Ministry said the 1,861 Communist shells that hit overnight were mostly of deeper penetration quality than the anti-personnel fragmentation shells used earlier.

The Reds now are using Soviet-made 203mm. and 212mm. guns instead of the 152mm. weapons previously aimed at Quemoy, ordnance experts reported.

The larger guns apparently were brought up in an effort to blast the concrete underground emplacements which have for the most part withstood the Red fire.

On Formosa opposition continued to the U.S.-Communist Chinese talks in Warsaw in which a settlement of Formosa Strait tension is being sought.

The Foreign Affairs and National Defense committees of the Control Yuan, highest Nationalist supervisory body, came out with a resolution opposing the talks.

Bomb Hoax Forces Fire Drill At School

EAST PALESTINE — Precautions were taken at East Palestine High School Tuesday after a phoned call that a time bomb had been placed in the building and set to explode at 2 p. m. Apparently it was a hoax.

School officials called police and firemen who made a thorough search during the noon hour but found nothing.

It was then decided to hold a fire drill from 1:50 p. m. until 2:10 p. m. and it was extended to the four other public schools and the parochial school.

Nothing happened by 2 and the children returned to classes 10 minutes later.

Supt. T. R. Hersh commented "This may be the work of a crank, but we can't afford to gamble with the lives of students." There are 550 students in the high school.

365 Qualified In Vote Signup

City's Registration Boosted To 10,736

A total of 365 East Liverpool voters qualified in a citywide precinct registration campaign Tuesday, boosting to 10,736 the number enrolled for the Nov. 4 general election.

The all-out drive arranged by the County Election Board was held in each of the city's 32 polling places from 11 a. m. to 3 p. m. and from 5 to 10 p. m. Of the total, 106 signed at the Election Board's office, which means 259 were registered in the precincts.

Rain that started early yesterday evening cut heavily into the expected turnout, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the board, pointed out. The board had 10,371 voters on its rolls when the drive opened yesterday.

The First Ward gained 104 voters; Second, 81; Third, 143, and Fourth, 37. All the electors signed at the Election Board office were credited in the initial breakdown to the Third Ward, as it also served as the registration point for the so-called City Hall precinct—3-B. When the new voters' cards filled out at the Election Board are placed in the proper ward totals, the figures will be altered.

Unqualified voters still have 6 business days in which to register. The deadline is Sept. 24. If a 33-a-day average is maintained through the deadline, the total will hit 11,000, O'Hanlon pointed out.

In yesterday's drive, four precinct registration points signed only one voter each. They are 3-G and 4-C, 4-E and 4-G.

Judge Orders Virginia School Admit 4 Negroes

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP)—U.S. Dist. Judge Albert M. Bryan today ordered Stratford Junior High, an Arlington County white school, to admit four Negroes next January.

Judge Bryan turned down the applications of 26 other Negroes for transfer to various white schools in the county.

Bryan said that in weighing these cases "the court cannot say that as to 26 of the pupil-plaintiffs their application for transfers to white schools were refused without substantial supporting evidence."

Strike At Mansfield

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Some 2,000 workers at the Mansfield Tire & Rubber Co. walked off their jobs Tuesday. The strike by Local 17 of AFL-CIO United Rubberworkers Union was caused by a dispute over job rating procedures, officials said.

6 More Days To Register

TO BE ELIGIBLE TO VOTE in East Liverpool at the Nov. 4 general election, you must register with the County Election Board at 129 W. 6th St. if:

You haven't voted at a primary, general or special election in the last two years; you've changed your name by marriage or court action; you've changed your residence since the last election; you've become 21 since the last election or will be 21 on or before the general election date.

A new resident is qualified to vote after he has resided in Ohio a year and in Columbiana County and his precinct 40 days prior to election day. You must transfer your registration if you have moved since voting last.

Deadline for registration is Wednesday, Sept. 24. The Election Board office will be open daily from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Dog-Wagging By Peiping

If Americans are breathing easier in the hope that the ambassadorial talks in Warsaw herald a cooling-off period in the Far East crisis, they can perhaps find some solace in speculation that the Russians are doing the same thing.

There have been intermittent rumors in recent years that Peiping is more of a thorn than balm in Moscow's side, but never before has there been such concrete evidence that the Red China tail can and sometimes does wag, the Kremlin dog.

The whole thing started when Mao Tse-tung forced Nikita Khrushchev into a complete about-face on the Mideast summit conference because it would have been held in the United Nations Security Council, of which Nationalist China is a member. Miffed and angered by this diplomatic boo-boo by the Russian, Mao may very well have sparked the present situation to show the Russians as well as everyone else that he is too big to be ignored.

Another clue is Khrushchev's warning to the United States last week that the Soviet Union would be a full partner with Red China in the event of war. It is highly doubtful the average Russian is any more eager to die for the offshore islands than the average American is. It is equally doubtful the Soviet high command enjoys the prospect of having Russian cities wiped out in nuclear warfare any more than American officials desire to lose our strategic centers.

Then there are the rumors that Mao demanded and got from Khrushchev a promise of nuclear weapons and rocket missiles. If they have been or are delivered, Mao is in a position to trigger a nuclear war himself. Some diplomats believe that because this possibility is so unattractive to the Kremlin, Khrushchev's pronouncement of support for Peiping was intended to serve as fulfillment of the weapons commitment.

Topping everything is the definite likelihood that the Russian bosses are growing increasingly uneasy over the mounting Chinese strength on the Soviet's southern border. This, plus Mao's willingness to take large gambles at Moscow's expense, would help to explain why Khrushchev was willing to go all out in his efforts to appease his "little brother" in Peiping.

Pursued to its logical conclusion, the evidence—though circumstancial to the Western detective—supports the verdict that Mao has made his point: The Kremlin is on probation not to ignore Peiping again.

Parents' Choice: Is It Good Enough?

The suit by a segregationist Little Rock mother to force Gov. Orval Faubus to reopen the high schools even on an integrated basis may be, as has been suspected, a prearranged legal gambit. Nevertheless it could be more truth than fiction as a clue to the ultimate solution of the present impasse southern politicos have created in the desegregation situation.

There can be no doubt that the majority of Arkansas white parents oppose integration. They re-elected Orval Faubus to prove it. The question is whether they are willing to go so far as to deprive their own children of an adequate education in order to prevent a few Negroes from getting the same education.

This question Faubus himself cannot answer, despite his cocksure statements on his legal position in the school-closing action and his boasts of "full" support among parents involved. That is the basis for one theory regarding the mother's suit: It may have been designed to use the state courts to get the governor off the hook if too much community criticism develops in the wake of the closing.

Faubus' doubts about how far he can go can also be seen in the provision for a referendum that he inserted in the law authorizing closing of the schools. True, this is really only a gimmick, because a majority of all qualified voters must approve in order to reopen the integrated school — and that is about twice the number of voters that usually turns out for an Arkansas election. Yet the ballot scheduled for Oct. 7 could serve as a barometer to community feeling even if it does not reopen the school.

Already many Little Rock families have attempted to enter their children in other schools now unaffected by federal court orders. They have failed, primarily because the other schools face the common problem of overcrowding already. Even if the other districts were willing to take the Little Rock students, it seems unlikely under the circumstances the youngsters would be able to get schooling comparable to what they would have in their normal facilities.

As for reopening the schools on a private, segregated basis, the Little Rock school board has raised the question of whether this can be done with assurance of full accreditation. A diploma from an unaccredited school could hardly be considered a certificate of adequate education, especially in the eyes of colleges and universities outside the state.

Finally, although there is no federal provision, constitutional or statutory, which forces a state to have a public school system, the tradition of public education is imbedded in this nation's way of life at least as deeply as segregation is in the southern way of life. Aside from the legal question of using public tax money for private schools, there remains a considerable suspicion that the kind of switcheroo contemplated by both Arkansas and Virginia cannot provide the same schooling a public system does.

As Gov. Faubus says, there has been no "massive resistance" in Little Rock to his order closing the high schools. But if white parents there have the same hopes and desires for their children parents universally have, it will be hard — as the schoolless days tick off — for them to resist the conclusion that an integrated school is better than none at all.

Names–But No Stones, Please

As the United Nations General Assembly opens its 13th regular session in the usual aura of crisis, the voices of the cynics who decry all that talk can be heard again. But they are getting dimmer.

The reason can be found in that taunting retort of childhood quarrels: "Sticks and stones may break my bones, but names will never hurt me."

In any dispute on any level—starting with family fights — where the opposing sides possess relatively equal muscle power, it is considered not only polite but definitely wise to "sit down and talk things over." When the dispute is an international affair that could mean life or death to millions, talking things over looks considerably more attractive.

Consequently, as crises develop one after another with frustrating persistence all around the globe, world leaders react ever more frequently by drawing back at the brink of conflict and extending an invitation to put down the stones and go to the U.N. for harmless name-calling.

The opponents usually are so adamant in their stands that no real solution to their dispute is even expected. But while they attack each other's positions with words, the "hot spot" of the moment tends to cool off sufficiently to let the world's people breathe a bit easier before the next crisis pops up.

Because name-calling is much more satisfying in public than in private, the U.N. is ideally suited as the place for it. The Assembly's 82 members include nearly all the nations of the world, representing all regions, races, cultures, religions and economic and geographic interests.

In time when peace means no more than the absence of large-scale shooting, the U.N. has proved amazingly successful as a peacemaker. It should not be sold short because it does little more than talk.

'Men Of Steel' And The Teamsters

By Victor Riesel

ATLANTIC CITY

There are thousands of men of steel here. Off their sinews even the brawniest of truckdrivers will bounce if a threatened war breaks out bteween two giants — Jim Hoffa's Teamsters' Union and David McDonald's United Steelworkers of America.

Victor Riesel

There's already been one quiet duel between these behemoths. Steelworkers in St. Louis walked through a Teamster picket line at the American Can Co. a month ago — setting two precedents. They went in. And they came out.

Best guess is that the Missouri Teamsters didn't try to waltz the Steelworkers around because they were under orders not to throw anything which might send them crashing into the national headlines at this time.

IT MAY NOT yet show on the sidewalks but there's bad blood brewing. Everywhere Hoffa is backing unions which are trying to cut in on the United Steel Workers, now concluding its ninth constitutional convention here. Like any good strategist, Hoffa knows that the best thing in this kind of life is timing.

And some Steelworkers' leaders believe that Hoffa's timetable calls for a counteroffensive after the next Teamster convention.

If word received here is accurate these are well informed men, indeed — Hoffa told his people during a transcontinental telephone conversation on Sept. 9, that the Teamsters will call a national convention for sometime in February in Chicago. That will depend on hotel space. At least one of the Loop hotels already had been contacted.

Hoffa's strategy is as subtle as it's supple. If the federal court stops his convention, he will go about the country saying that he wanted to give the rank-and-file a chance to elect delegates to a convention which could, if the delegates so voted, turn him out as president.

If that's not democracy in action what is, he'll ask.

FURTHERMORE, he will point out that the court - appointed monitors can supervise the election of the delegates.

But the monitors will walk right into Justice F. Dickdnson Letts' federal court in Washington and say that there can't be an election because their own accountants, Price Waterhouse, have discovered that there is no authoritative central list of voters — namely union members in the Teamos' national office.

The Central Teamster headquarters just doesn't have such records. As the Price Waterhouse report put it: "Because of the absence of authoritative membership records, independently maintained, this committee has no independent means of determining the good standing status of any particular delegate or any member whose election as a delegate is sought.

"This same situation exists with respect to the determination of a member's eligibility to hold an elective office, his right to vote, his right to receive the official journal and all of his other rights and privileges."

Now, as the crusading monitors' chief, Martin O'Donoghue, has pointed out to me it is virtually impossible for any but a handful of Teamsters of all the 1,600,000 members, to become eligible to vote or hold office.

THE TEAMSTER constitution says that dues must be paid on the first day of the month to be in good standing. If you're driving a truck a hundred miles away or you can't get across town from a warehouse in time, you can pay the next day or the following week. But you are technically not in good standing that month since you didn't pay on the first.

And, says the constitution, to run for office, including convention delegate, you must have been in good standing regularly for the previous two years.

There is one local of 1,500 members, for example, where only 78 were eligible for nomination for office.

But when nominations were actually held in that unit, the officers permitted only one man to run for office. That was that.

So there is no doubt here that Hoffa, whenever he runs his convention, will again have a majority. He then will say that having been legally elected, there should be no more monitors or court supervision. He will ask for readmission to the AFL-CIO. This will be rejected.

Jim Hoffa then will start his drive — and wherever he goes he will run into these men of steel. It will be an even match.

Letters To The Editor

Are you registered to vote? Sept. 24 is the deadline. If you are not eligible to vote, you are aiding the opposition, no matter what the issue.

So many ask: "What good can my one vote do?" Even if the opposing issue loses by merely one vote, you can be proud to say, "I beat them by my one vote." Each of us has a duty to perform and only by voting can we achieve the results we want in the coming election.

Mere talk cannot defeat the anti-labor bills on the ballot this year. Your vote is needed, so if you are not registered yet, do so at the appointed places. And don't delay.

This year the "Right-To-Work Law" and the city income tax are on the November ballot. Are you for or against either one? Mark it "In" or "Out" by your vote.

Do you like, or dislike, the men who are running for offices this year? Your vote may be the deciding one as to who finally wins the office. Unless you add your vote to those of your fellow party men, the opposite party will win because you can be sure they will be out in full force in November.

The personnel working at voting headquarters will do all they can to help you get to the polls. All you need do is register now and vote in November.

Would any adult like to have a feeling of futility some foggy morning at 8 Daylight Time?

If so, just drive out the Sub Station, Route 30, park your car, take a small child by the hand, stand on the side of the road and — listening for cars and straining to see — cross the highway on foot.

Then you will realize what the school children who ride the school buses contend with every foggy morning. Their only thought is to get across before they miss the bus. My thoughts and prayers are only let them get across safely between cars and trucks.

I think it is about time we adults gave a broader look at Daylight Time versus Standard Time and return to Standard Time during the full school term.

A Look At Formosa

Formosa faces Red China over 100 miles of shallow water. Okinawa lies 365 miles to the northeast, the Philippines only 225 miles to the south.

As the main remnant of Nationalist China and an Asian bastion of the free world, Formosa's position is chronically precarious.

The past of the strategic island also is haunted by war and conquest. It has been a pirate lair; a colonial outpost of the Dutch, Spanish and French; a model colony and war base of the Japanese. V-J Day reverted the island to Chinese rule, which has prevailed off and on since the 13th century.

The vigor of Formosa's farms and factories makes it a prize.

Shaped like a tobacco leaf, 240-mile-long Formosa is about twice the size of New Jersey. It is lush and mountainous, with silvery streams and waterfalls. The island turns a rugged spine towards the Pacific. The towering peaks graduate into terraced slopes and plains that stretch to the island's western shore. Hence its Chinese name Taiwan, meaning "terraced Bay."

Something is planted in nearly every square inch of tillable soil — rice, sugar cane, wheat, pineapples, vegetables, or tobacco. Two, three, even four crops can be grown yearly. At harvest time, rice is spread on highways and streets to dry.

The island supports, to the best of its considerable ability, some 9,300,000 people, including 2,000,000 who in effect suddenly "came to dinner." They are the anti-Communist Chinese who followed Gen. Chiang Kai-shek from the mainland in 1949.

Alibi For Losers

Adams—A Principle Worth Fighting For

Should Sherman Adams be sacrificed on the altar of political expediency as so many of the Republican candidates for office this autumn are demanding? If he resigns his post as assistant to the president, will this dispose of the matter? Will the Democrats promptly stop discussing it, or will they regard the resignation as a confession of guilt and hammer away at the issue even harder?

David Lawrence

The mere asking of these questions points up the dilemma faced by both President Eisenhower and Mr. Adams this week, now that the latter has returned from his vacation.

The problem doesn't involve any new facts. For the underlying situation is just the same as it was when the political furor over the acceptance of gifts by Mr. Adams from his close personal friend, Bernard Goldfine, first hit the headlines in June.

It now is being said, of course, that the Maine election a week ago accentuated the importance of the issue.

This sounds like an alibi from the side that, for other reasons, lost the election and from those weak-kneed candidates among the Republicans who now fear they may lose out, too — also for other reasons.

ACTUALLY, it will do no good, politically speaking, for Sherman Adams to resign voluntarily. There might have been last June a slight benefit politically if President Eisenhower himself had asked for the resignation.

But if done at this late date, the Democrats would immediately ask why Mr. Eisenhower waited so long — and they would continue to try to smear his administration anyhow as somehow "tainted."

If the Republican nominees who are clamoring for the scalp of Sherman Adams would exhibit some of the courage that is occasionally manifested even by candidates for public office, they would turn the Sherman Adams issue around and take a leaf from the book of the militant "liberals" whose battle cry in recent years has been that a man should be presumed innocent until he is proved guilty and should not be made to suffer because of "guilt by association."

It's better sometimes to lose an election in order to reaffirm and eventually vindicate a principle. Not a single piece of evidence exists to show that Sherman Adams violated any law or exercised any improper influence or achieved any improper objective.

His acceptance of gifts from a personal friend turned out to be "imprudent" because of the innuendoes publicized by a hostile investigating committee in Congress, but it is true that Mr. Adams performed exactly the same service for many other citizens from whom he never received any gifts.

For the executive offices staff to make inquiries from other departments or agencies of the government in behalf of the citizens — all of whom have a right to "petition the government for a redress of grievances" — is to apply the First Amendment in the Bill of Rights of the Constitution.

But the politicians, who know that suspicion does not constitute proof of guilt, are nevertheless groping for a scapegoat.

Somehow, they believe that they can curry favor with the voters by coming out for the dismissal of Mr. Adams. This assumes that the public has been misled or cannot weigh the truth when it is fully presented on the stump.

So far as meeting the issue raised by the Democrats, there is the Biblical argument that only he who is without sin may cast the first stone.

The record of convictions and imprisonment of several persons who held office under the last Democratic administration could make interesting rebuttal material for the Republicans to use if the Democratic candidates want to risk a revival of those controversies and a reminder of some actual and undisputed cases of corruption.

THERE MIGHT BE, to be sure, some constructive purpose served by a voluntary resignation by Sherman Adams if, by so doing, he could bring about the immediate abolition of all gift giving to public officials — including, of course, the large sums of money contributed during and between campaigns through the efforts of labor unions and corporation executives.

If what Sherman Adams did was wrong, then every member of the House or Senate who has received large campaign funds from special interests should for the remainder of his term disqualify himself from voting in favor of any legislation affecting those special interests — business or labor unions or any company in which he personally owns any stock.

But would this prove anything?

Can't a man accept a gift from a friend or a campaign contribution and still be honest and decide questions in the public interest?

It's a principle worth fighting for, and the battle will be lost if Sherman Adams is compelled to live the rest of his life under the stigma or implication of dishonesty which so many of today's politicians would thoughtlessly place upon him.

President Eisenhower has not seemed to be the kind of public official who would yield to expediency and sacrifice an honest man.

Preparing For Tomorrow

By Robert S. Brown

Editor's Notice: Some of T.T.'s readers have written vacation columns for him again this year. Today's essayist is the superintendent of a school system.

What happened to summer? No one knows for certain, but Labor Day has come and gone, and already we are well into the routine of a new school year.

Young America has discarded its fishing rods, sandbuckets, shorts and tattered jeans for new school clothes. Leisurely vacation living is at an end, much to the relief of harassed parents.

Thousands upon thousands of American boys and girls again have started a new attack upon learning — and thousands of teachers stand ready to meet the challenge.

With the return to school, certain hazards will be encountered. Of these, the biggest is traffic.

On some corners, uniformed policemen watch over the carefree cherubs. Other corners will be manned by other adults, while still others will be protected by student volunteers.

Regardless of the type of protection afforded, vehicle operators must be ever alert. These kids need our every effort to assist them in getting to and from school safely.

And, Mr. and Mrs. Parent, get squared away with your social life! Teen-agers are joiners. Many school-sponsored and school-supervised groups again have started to function. This means, or should mean, car pools for transportation.

And, Pappy, read on . . .

With September and October will come the signal to dig out the pigskin for hundreds of sandlot and high school football games. The boys and girls will want to go. The easy way is to shell out the admission price and send them forth.

That is the easy way, but not the sensible way. Grab your blanket and pipe and chauffeur them. The kids will accept this act of convenience, and if they don't, take them anyway. Accepted rules of teen-age conduct do not prohibit parental association and guidance. You might even consider the possibility of extending this service to all functions throughoutt he entire school year.

Don't forget the frantic rash of "Pizza parties." Plans should be in the making to procure huge supplies of cheese, hamburger and anchovies to fill seemingly bottomless stomachs. Turn the kitchens over to them. They will be at home, and you will know where they are.

These kids are attending the public schools in the "Sputnik Age." These are times which should alert every home to functions as a unit that is close-knit and understanding. This united feeling should be prefaced upon the need of firm and fair discipline. No child ever has been permanently damaged by application of an occasional paddle to the proper area of the anatomy. I have yet to see a good learning situation which was not based upon firm and fair discipline.

What results will be evidence of a worthwhile experience when the 1958-59 school year comes to a close?

The greatest achievement will be awareness and willingness to stand up and be counted when individual rights are challenged. Our educational system mirrors and stresses American principles — the freedoms we cherish.

Most youngsters don't pin down their thoughts in this fashion. But the fishing rod they have just put down and the books they are attacking with varying degrees of ambition are parts of a wonderful way of life.

May those of us in school work have the ability, energy and patience to guide and inspire these youngsters as they head toward their responsibility in the amazing world of tomorrow!

Dog-Wagging By Peiping

If Americans are breathing easier in the hope that the ambassadorial talks in Warsaw herald a cooling-off period in the Far East crisis, they can perhaps find some solace in speculation that the Russians are doing the same thing.

There have been intermittent rumors in recent years that Peiping is more of a thorn than balm in Moscow's side, but never before has there been such concrete evidence that the Red China tail can and sometimes does wag, the Kremlin dog.

The whole thing started when Mao Tse-tung forced Nikita Khrushchev into a complete about-face on the Mideast summit conference because it would have been held in the United Nations Security Council, of which Nationalist China is a member. Miffed and angered by this diplomatic boo-boo by the Russian, Mao may very well have sparked the present situation to show the Russians as well as everyone else that he is too big to be ignored.

Another clue is Khrushchev's warning to the United States last week that the Soviet Union would be a full partner with Red China in the event of war. It is highly doubtful the average Russian is any more eager to die for the offshore islands than the average American is. It is equally doubtful the Soviet high command enjoys the prospect of having Russian cities wiped out in nuclear warfare any more than American officials desire to lose our strategic centers.

Then there are the rumors that Mao demanded and got from Khrushchev a promise of nuclear weapons and rocket missiles. If they have been or are delivered, Mao is in a position to trigger a nuclear war himself. Some diplomats believe that because this possibility is so unattractive to the Kremlin, Khrushchev's pronouncement of support for Peiping was intended to serve as fulfillment of the weapons commitment.

Topping everything is the definite likelihood that the Russian bosses are growing increasingly uneasy over the mounting Chinese strength on the Soviet's southern border. This, plus Mao's willingness to take large gambles at Moscow's expense, would help to explain why Khrushchev was willing to go all out in his efforts to appease his "little brother" in Peiping.

Pursued to its logical conclusion, the evidence—though circumstancial to the Western detective—supports the verdict that Mao has made his point: The Kremlin is on probation not to ignore Peiping again.

Parents' Choice: Is It Good Enough?

The suit by a segregationist Little Rock mother to force Gov. Orval Faubus to reopen the high schools even on an integrated basis may be, as has been suspected, a prearranged legal gambit. Nevertheless it could be more truth than fiction as a clue to the ultimate solution of the present impasse southern politicos have created in the desegregation situation.

There can be no doubt that the majority of Arkansas white parents oppose integration. They re-elected Orval Faubus to prove it. The question is whether they are willing to go so far as to deprive their own children of an adequate education in order to prevent a few Negroes from getting the same education.

This question Faubus himself cannot answer, despite his cocksure statements on his legal position in the school-closing action and his boasts of "full" support among parents involved. That is the basis for one theory regarding the mother's suit: It may have been designed to use the state courts to get the governor off the hook if too much community criticism develops in the wake of the closing.

Faubus' doubts about how far he can go can also be seen in the provision for a referendum that he inserted in the law authorizing closing of the schools. True, this is really only a gimmick, because a majority of all qualified voters must approve in order to reopen the integrated school — and that is about twice the number of voters that usually turns out for an Arkansas election. FURTHERMORE, he will point out that the court - appointed monitors can supervise the election of the delegates.

But the monitors will walk right into Justice F. Dickdnson Letts' federal court in Washington and say that there can't be an election because their own accountants, Price Waterhouse, have discovered that there is no authoritative central list of voters — namely union members in the Teamos' national office.

The Central Teamster headquarters just doesn't have such records. As the Price Waterhouse report put it: "Because of the absence of authoritative membership records, independently maintained, this committee has no independent means of determining the good standing status of any particular delegate or any member whose election as a delegate is sought.

"This same situation exists with respect to the determination of a member's eligibility to hold an elective office, his right to vote, his right to receive the official journal and all of his other rights and privileges."

Now, as the crusading monitors' chief, Martin O'Donoghue, has pointed out to me it is virtually impossible for any but a handful of Teamsters of all the 1,600,000 members, to become eligible to vote or hold office.

THE TEAMSTER constitution says that dues must be paid on the first day of the month to be in good standing. If you're driving a truck a hundred miles away or you can't get across town from a warehouse in time, you can pay the next day or the following week. But you are technically not in good standing that month since you didn't pay on the first.

And, says the constitution, to run for office, including convention delegate, you must have been in good standing regularly for the previous two years.

There is one local of 1,500 members, for example, where only 78 were eligible for nomination for office.

But when nominations were actually held in that unit, the officers permitted only one man to run for office. That was that.

So there is no doubt here that Hoffa, whenever he runs his convention, will again have a majority. He then will say that having been legally elected, there should be no more monitors or court supervision. He will ask for readmission to the AFL-CIO. This will be rejected.

Jim Hoffa then will start his drive — and wherever he goes he will run into these men of steel. It will be an even match.

Letters To The Editor

Are you registered to vote? Sept. 24 is the deadline. If you are not eligible to vote, you are aiding the opposition, no matter what the issue.

So many ask: "What good can my one vote do?" Even if the opposing issue loses by merely one vote, you can be proud to say, "I beat them by my one vote." Each of us has a duty to perform and only by voting can we achieve the results we want in the coming election.

Mere talk cannot defeat the anti-labor bills on the ballot this year. Your vote is needed, so if you are not registered yet, do so at the appointed places. And don't delay.

This year the "Right-To-Work Law" and the city income tax are on the November ballot. Are you for or against either one? Mark it "In" or "Out" by your vote.

Do you like, or dislike, the men who are running for offices this year? Your vote may be the deciding one as to who finally wins the office. Unless you add your vote to those of your fellow party men, the opposite party will win because you can be sure they will be out in full force in November.

The personnel working at voting headquarters will do all they can to help you get to the polls. All you need do is register now and vote in November.

Would any adult like to have a feeling of futility some foggy morning at 8 Daylight Time?

If so, just drive out the Sub Station, Route 30, park your car, take a small child by the hand, stand on the side of the road and — listening for cars and straining to see — cross the highway on foot.

Then you will realize what the school children who ride the school buses contend with every foggy morning. Their only thought is to get across before they miss the bus. My thoughts and prayers are only let them get across safely between cars and trucks.

I think it is about time we adults gave a broader look at Daylight Time versus Standard Time and return to Standard Time during the full school term.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — William Guy was elected president of the newly - organized Blue Moon Club at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Hilditch on E. 8th St.

Clyde Baker, president of Wellsville Council, placed an order for the city's third traffic control light.

The Rev. W. S. Martin, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Salineville, returned from a tour of the Holy Land, Egypt and Syria.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Two donkey baseball games were staged at Columbian Park.

Some 100 attended a home talent show during the first fall meeting of the Walker School Parent - Teacher Association.

Matthew A. Curry of Anderson Pl. received his master of education degree during the summer session of the University of Pittsburgh.

TEN YEARS AGO — Earl Price was elected president of the Klondyke Home and School Association, succeeding Mrs. Irene Dawson.

Mrs. Ethel Lynn Wambaugh was appointed general chairman of the Fall Fashion Show sponsored by the East Liverpool Business and Professional Women's Club at the Ceramic Theater.

Miss Jane Neiser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Neiser of Pennsylvania Ave., was appointed to faculty of Muskingum College, New Concord, where she will teach organ, piano and theory.

A Look At Formosa

Formosa faces Red China over 100 miles of shallow water. Okinawa lies 365 miles to the northeast, the Philippines only 225 miles to the south.

As the main remnant of Nationalist China and an Asian bastion of the free world, Formosa's position is chronically precarious.

The past of the strategic island also is haunted by war and conquest. It has been a pirate lair; a colonial outpost of the Dutch, Spanish and French; a model colony and war base of the Japanese. V-J Day reverted the island to Chinese rule, which has prevailed off and on since the 13th century.

The vigor of Formosa's farms and factories makes it a prize.

Shaped like a tobacco leaf, 240-mile-long Formosa is about twice the size of New Jersey. It is lush and mountainous, with silvery streams and waterfalls. The island turns a rugged spine towards the Pacific. The towering peaks graduate into terraced slopes and plains that stretch to the island's western shore. Hence its Chinese name Taiwan, meaning "terraced Bay."

Something is planted in nearly every square inch of tillable soil — rice, sugar cane, wheat, pineapples, vegetables, or tobacco. Two, three, even four crops can be grown yearly. At harvest time, rice is spread on highways and streets to dry.

The island supports, to the best of its considerable ability, some 9,300,000 people, including 2,000,000 who in effect suddenly "came to dinner." They are the anti-Communist Chinese who followed Gen. Chiang Kai-shek from the mainland in 1949.

Alibi For Losers

By David Lawrence

Adams—A Principle Worth Fighting For

Should Sherman Adams be sacrificed on the altar of political expediency as so many of the Republican candidates for office this autumn are demanding? If he resigns his post as assistant to the president, will this dispose of the matter? Will the Democrats promptly stop discussing it, or will they regard the resignation as a confession of guilt and hammer away at the issue even harder?

David Lawrence

The mere asking of these questions points up the dilemma faced by both President Eisenhower and Mr. Adams this week, now that the latter has returned from his vacation.

The problem doesn't involve any new facts. For the underlying situation is just the same as it was when the political furor over the acceptance of gifts by Mr. Adams from his close personal friend, Bernard Goldfine, first hit the headlines in June.

It now is being said, of course, that the Maine election a week ago accentuated the importance of the issue.

This sounds like an alibi from the side that, for other reasons, lost the election and from those weak-kneed candidates among the Republicans who now fear they may lose out, too — also for other reasons.

ACTUALLY, it will do no good, politically speaking, for Sherman Adams to resign voluntarily. There might have been last June a slight benefit politically if President Eisenhower himself had asked for the resignation.

But if done at this late date, the Democrats would immediately ask why Mr. Eisenhower waited so long — and they would continue to try to smear his administration anyhow as somehow "tainted."

If the Republican nominees who are clamoring for the scalp of Sherman Adams would exhibit some of the courage that is occasionally manifested even by candidates for public office, they would turn the Sherman Adams issue around and take a leaf from the book of the militant "liberals" whose battle cry in recent years has been that a man should be presumed innocent until he is proved guilty and should not be made to suffer because of "guilt by association."

It's better sometimes to lose an election in order to reaffirm and eventually vindicate a principle. Not a single piece of evidence exists to show that Sherman Adams violated any law or exercised any improper influence or achieved any improper objective.

His acceptance of gifts from a personal friend turned out to be "imprudent" because of the innuendoes publicized by a hostile investigating committee in Congress, but it is true that Mr. Adams performed exactly the same service for many other citizens from whom he never received any gifts.

For the executive offices staff to make inquiries from other departments or agencies of the government in behalf of the citizens — all of whom have a right to "petition the government for a redress of grievances" — is to apply the First Amendment in the Bill of Rights of the Constitution.

But the politicians, who know that suspicion does not constitute proof of guilt, are nevertheless groping for a scapegoat.

Somehow, they believe that they can curry favor with the voters by coming out for the dismissal of Mr. Adams. This assumes that the public has been misled or cannot weigh the truth when it is fully presented on the stump.

So far as meeting the issue raised by the Democrats, there is the Biblical argument that only he who is without sin may cast the first stone.

The record of convictions and imprisonment of several persons who held office under the last Democratic administration could make interesting rebuttal material for the Republicans to use if the Democratic candidates want to risk a revival of those controversies and a reminder of some actual and undisputed cases of corruption.

THERE MIGHT BE, to be sure, some constructive purpose served by a voluntary resignation by Sherman Adams if, by so doing, he could bring about the immediate abolition of all gift giving to public officials — including, of course, the large sums of money contributed during and between campaigns through the efforts of labor unions and corporation executives.

If what Sherman Adams did was wrong, then every member of the House or Senate who has received large campaign funds from special interests should for the remainder of his term disqualify himself from voting in favor of any legislation affecting those special interests — business or labor unions or any company in which he personally owns any stock.

But would this prove anything?

Can't a man accept a gift from a friend or a campaign contribution and still be honest and decide questions in the public interest?

It's a principle worth fighting for, and the battle will be lost if Sherman Adams is compelled to live the rest of his life under the stigma or implication of dishonesty which so many of today's politicians would thoughtlessly place upon him.

President Eisenhower has not seemed to be the kind of public official who would yield to expediency and sacrifice an honest man.

Preparing For Tomorrow

By Robert S. Brown

Editor's Notice: Some of T.T.'s readers have written vacation columns for him again this year. Today's essayist is the superintendent of a school system.

What happened to summer? No one knows for certain, but Labor Day has come and gone, and already we are well into the routine of a new school year.

Young America has discarded its fishing rods, sandbuckets, shorts and tattered jeans for new school clothes. Leisurely vacation living is at an end, much to the relief of harassed parents.

Thousands upon thousands of American boys and girls again have started a new attack upon learning — and thousands of teachers stand ready to meet the challenge.

With the return to school, certain hazards will be encountered. Of these, the biggest is traffic.

On some corners, uniformed policemen watch over the carefree cherubs. Other corners will be manned by other adults, while still others will be protected by student volunteers.

Regardless of the type of protection afforded, vehicle operators must be ever alert. These kids need our every effort to assist them in getting to and from school safely.

And, Mr. and Mrs. Parent, get squared away with your social life! Teen-agers are joiners. Many school-sponsored and school-supervised groups again have started to function. This means, or should mean, car pools for transportation.

And, Pappy, read on . . .

With September and October will come the signal to dig out the pigskin for hundreds of sandlot and high school football games. The boys and girls will want to go. The easy way is to shell out the admission price and send them forth.

That is the easy way, but not the sensible way. Grab your blanket and pipe and chauffeur them. The kids will accept this act of convenience, and if they don't, take them anyway. Accepted rules of teen-age conduct do not prohibit parental association and guidance. You might even consider the possibility of extending this service to all functions throughoutt he entire school year.

Don't forget the frantic rash of "Pizza parties." Plans should be in the making to procure huge supplies of cheese, hamburger and anchovies to fill seemingly bottomless stomachs. Turn the kitchens over to them. They will be at home, and you will know where they are.

These kids are attending the public schools in the "Sputnik Age." These are times which should alert every home to functions as a unit that is close-knit and understanding. This united feeling should be prefaced upon the need of firm and fair discipline. No child ever has been permanently damaged by application of an occasional paddle to the proper area of the anatomy. I have yet to see a good learning situation which was not based upon firm and fair discipline.

What results will be evidence of a worthwhile experience when the 1958-59 school year comes to a close?

The greatest achievement will be awareness and willingness to stand up and be counted when individual rights are challenged. Our educational system mirrors and stresses American principles — the freedoms we cherish.

Most youngsters don't pin down their thoughts in this fashion. But the fishing rod they have just put down and the books they are attacking with varying degrees of ambition are parts of a wonderful way of life.

May those of us in school work have the ability, energy and patience to guide and inspire these youngsters as they head toward their responsibility in the amazing world of tomorrow!

Eastern Ohio School Group Meets Oct. 8

A vacancy will be filled and a new chairman elected at a meeting of the executive committee of the Eastern Ohio Council for Higher Education Oct. 8 at 2 p.m. in the office of D. B. Metzger, superintendent of Toronto schools.

Ned Sheats of Carrollton, former chairman, has moved out of the state, creating the vacancy.

Supt. Ralph Betts of East Liverpool is a member of the executive committee. Metzger is president of the council, while Paul Blair, assistant superintendent in East Liverpool, is council secretary.

Other members of the executive committee are George Reese of Scio, the Rev. Daniel Egan, president of the College of Steubenville, and William Frazier of Martins Ferry.

Members of the executive group have been asked in a letter by Metzger to present ideas at the session which they feel can be incorporated in a necessary study that will portray the status of higher educational facilities in this section of the state.

Such studies will be presented to the Ohio Legislature which will convene in January. Metzger said in his letter "At the writing of this letter, the committee composed of the presidents of state universities, appointed by the governor, has made no concrete recommendation dealing with the problem of higher education facilities in Eastern Ohio."

GOP Maps Fight To Beat Proxmire

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican strategists apparently have decided their best chance of defeating a Democratic senator lies in an all-out effort against Sen. William Proxmire in Wisconsin.

Field reports to the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee have pictured Proxmire as the most vulnerable of 13 Democratic senators whose seats are at stake in November. Proxmire was elected last year after GOP Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy died.

Although the Republicans are reluctant to talk about it, their surveys are said to show no other contest giving their party what they regard as an even chance of picking up a seat from the Democrats.

Since they already have lost one seat in Maine, the GOP campaigners would have to hold the remaining 20 they have at stake and gain two others to be in a position to control the new Senate. In such circumstances they could do this with Vice President Nixon's tie-breaking vote.

Democrats outnumbered Republicans 49-47 before GOP Sen. Frederick G. Payne was beaten in Maine.

Republican hopes of defeating Proxmire rest in uniting party strength behind Roland J. Steinle, their nominee, in a state that ordinarily is counted in the GOP column.

The Republicans have been perked up somewhat by canvasses elsewhere.These indicate to them that some of the seats they now hold may not be in as much danger as they believed after Payne went down in Maine.

Privately Republican lieutenants say they regard only six GOP seats as certainly safe—those in Nebraska, Ohio, North Dakota, Delaware, Wyoming and Vermont. They are only a little less certain, however, about Utah and Nevada. They are frankly worried about Indiana.

Reports from field workers indicate that GOP prospects have been looking up recently in Arizona, California, Connecticut, New Jersey, New York, Maryland, Minnesota, Pennsylvania and in West Virginia, where two GOP places are being contested.

There has been no such cheering news, however, from Michigan, where GOP Sen. Charles E. Potter apparently is fighting a tough, uphill battle.

Republican hopes of holding on to the seat Sen. Irving M. Ives is vacating in New York have been raised by nomination of Nelson Rockefeller as the party's candidate for governor, as well as the choice of Rep. Kenneth B. Keating as nominee for the Senate.

No company officials were invited to the meeting but L. T. Pendleton, Ohio Bell vice president, said:

"We would be open minded on any proposal to sit down and talk over and try to narrow the issues."

The representatives will meet again in Columbus Sept. 30. Columbus, Akron, Youngstown, Dayton, Cleveland and Toledo were represented at Tuesday's meeting.

Blasier, president of the Ohio Junior Chamber of Commerce in 1956-57, currently is sales manager and a member of the board of directors of Damon Chemical Co., Alliance. He said local groups of Young Ohioans for Bricker will be formed in all sections of the state.

In a letter to employes, National Steel's principal officers, George M. Humphrey, chairman, and Thomas E. Millsop, president, said the objectives of the plan are twofold:

Damaged Wheat Seen Eligible For Price Aid

Sprout - damaged and lightweight wheat will be eligible for price support under the 1958 price support program, the Beaver County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office announced.

Because of continued rains which have delayed harvesting operations and caused considerable damage, provisions of the 1958 wheat price support program have been relaxed to include wheat grading No. 4, 5 and Sample because of damaged kernels (other than heat damage). The damaged wheat must not contain more than 14 per cent moisture and must not be musty, sour, heating, or hot, the ASC said.

In 1887 four Chicago anarchists, convicted by a jury, were hanged in connection with the Haymarket explosions. Seven policemen had been killed and 60 wounded by a bomb thrown by an anarchist.

Final Payments Asked In County Personal Tax

LISBON — County Treasurer Vincent C. Judge said today concluding payment notices on 6,000 returns on personal property tax for the 1958 tax year were mailed Monday from his office.

Classified personal tax is based on income from stocks, bonds, notes and other investments. General personal tax is calculated on store inventories, machinery, farm equipment and grains.

Personal property tax covers items which have a fluctuating value and taxpayers are required to file annually between Feb. 15 and April 30. These statements cover any amount due after auditing of the return by the county auditor's office, Judge said.

All statements carry a closing date of Oct. 15. If not paid by that time, a 10 per cent penalty is added.

Palestine Policeman Due 3-Week Vacation

EAST PALESTINE — City Council passed as emergency legislation Monday night an ordinance providing three weeks paid vacation for members of the police department with 15 years service.

How Can I? ? ?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I make use of butter that is too strong for table use?

A. It can be used for frying, or any place where drippings are required. Do not use for baking cake, as the strong flavor will ruin the delicacy of the cake.

Q. How can I give a delicate fragrance to the linen clothes?

A. By placing a lump of orris root in the boiler on wash day. The fragrance will last even after the clothes are ironed.

Q. How can I remove stains from piano keys?

A. Wash them carefully with a damp cloth. Also rub them occasionally with a soft cloth wet with alcohol to keep the keys white.

Court Studies Appeal In Chester 'Mike' Case

The West Virginia Supreme Court Tuesday at Charleston heard testimony in an appeal of a $50,000 suit of a Chester woman who claims her rights of privacy were violated by a listening device placed in a Carolina Ave. apartment she rented in 1956.

Mrs. Adeline Roach filed the action against William W. Harper of Virginia Ave., a teacher, claiming he had the device secretly hidden in the apartment before she rented it.

A Hancock County Court decision dismissed the suit. Harper's attorneys said Mrs. Roach failed to say if Harper actually heard any of her conversations or if he repeated anything he might have heard.

Margaret Truman Seen Flop As Actress By Most Critics

CHICAGO (AP)—Miss Margaret Truman, after several years in the role of a housewife, returned to the stage Tuesday night as leading lady in "Autumn Crocus."

Chicago newspaper drama critics' comment on the performance by the ex-President's daugher at the Drury Lane Theatre:

Roger Dettmer, American—"To suggest here that Miss Margaret Truman . . . is genuinely an actress would tweak the nose of theatrical truth."

Seymour Raven, Tribune—"Until the play's thin emotions begin to shift their fragile gears and Miss Truman lapses into some immature stage mannerisms under the stress, she reveals a vibrant personality which is all that her fondest admirers have said to be. "Carefully prepared, within present technical limitations, she could be a charming actress."

Hoke Norris, Sun-Times — "A nice American girl played the part of a nice American girl and that almost sums up the opening. . . ."

Sydney J. Harris, Daily News, who wrote his review as an open letter to Margaret's father—"All in all, Harry, it was a grim evening. The plain fact, H.S.T., is that Margaret just isn't to be the star of a professional play."

Miss Truman, who hadn't read the reviews, told reporters she is contemplating further stage performances and perhaps television work.

"If it doesn't take me away from home too long," said Miss Truman, wife of newspaperman Clifton Daniel Jr.

Lodge Permit Suspended By Liquor Board

Loyal Order of Moose Lodge 122 has been handed a 70-day suspension of its private club liquor permit by the State Liquor Control Board at Columbus on gambling charges that stem from police confiscation of two pinball machines several months ago.

The suspension will begin Sunday, Sept. 28, and continue until midnight Thursday, Dec. 4, the liquor board said. The lodge recently moved into its new home on E. 3rd St., vacating the building at E. 4th and Washington Sts. that it occupied for many years.

The board suspended the lodge permit on charges of possessing gambling devices and permitting gambling on a licensed premises. A club officer was fined in Municipal Court on a gambling charge after police hauled away two pinball machines that they charged were capable of registering "free games." The "free game" counter makes them gambling devices in the eyes of the state law and the Liquor Control Board regulations.

Officers first were summoned to the lodge home to investigate a burglary. When the marble boards were discovered, a city truck was called to haul them away.

Clinical Director Dies

GREENWOOD, S.C. (AP) — Dr. William Ussery Gunn, 38, clinical director of Whitten Village, a state institution for handicapped children at Clinton, S.C., died Tuesday after a brief illness. He was born in Harlan, Ky.

3 Flee Jail At Coshocton, One Captured

COSHOCTON, Ohio (AP)—Three prisoners broke out of Coshocton County Jail here today, but another prisoner alerted the sheriff and one escapee was picked up a short time later.

Still loose and object of a county-wide search are Elmer Monk, 24, of nearby West Lafayette, and Winnie Earl Sanderson Jr., 20, of Coshocton.

Mrs. William Hoop, wife of the sheriff, said Monk is a parole violator and presumably dangerous, although neither he or Sanderson are believed armed.

The break occurred around 1 a.m. and about three hours later one escapee, Victor Eugene Rothenstein, 18, of Coshocton, was apprehended while wandering along a street here. He surrendered meekly.

All three escapees were being held on charges of breaking and entering.

Mrs. Hoop said the escapees, who comprised three of the jail's 12 prisoners, were in a center bullpen or corridor between the cells. She said they pried open a little used door at one end of the bullpen and escaped through a section of the jail being remodeled.

That section had a window open with its bars removed.

Negro Parents Take School Plea To State Officials

NEW YORK (AP) — A small group of Negro parents protesting their children's assignment to heavily Negro schools in Harlem have appealed to state officials for intervention.

The parents of the nine seventh-graders involved have refused to send their children to the schools, which are almost entire Negro. They want them assigned to better-integrated schools outside the Harlem area which, they contend, provide better educational programs.

There is no intended racial segregation in New York City schools. But neighborhood racial patterns sometimes create student bodies made up mostly of one race or the other.

In a telegram to State Commissioner of Education James Allen Jr., the parents' attorney asked for a hearing on the dispute and a state investigation of conditions in Harlem schools.

The attorney, Paul B. Zuber, said that forcing parents to send their children to schools where they allegedly would receive unequal educational opportunities is a violation of their rights.

Margaret Truman Seen Flop As Actress By Most Critics

CHICAGO (AP)—Miss Margaret Truman, after several years in the role of a housewife, returned to the stage Tuesday night as leading lady in "Autumn Crocus."

Chicago newspaper drama critics' comment on the performance by the ex-President's daugher at the Drury Lane Theatre:

Roger Dettmer, American—"To suggest here that Miss Margaret Truman . . . is genuinely an actress would tweak the nose of theatrical truth."

Seymour Raven, Tribune—"Until the play's thin emotions begin to shift their fragile gears and Miss Truman lapses into some immature stage mannerisms under the stress, she reveals a vibrant personality which is all that her fondest admirers have said to be. "Carefully prepared, within present technical limitations, she could be a charming actress."

Hoke Norris, Sun-Times — "A nice American girl played the part of a nice American girl and that almost sums up the opening. . . ."

Sydney J. Harris, Daily News, who wrote his review as an open letter to Margaret's father—"All in all, Harry, it was a grim evening. The plain fact, H.S.T., is that Margaret just isn't to be the star of a professional play."

Miss Truman, who hadn't read the reviews, told reporters she is contemplating further stage performances and perhaps television work.

"If it doesn't take me away from home too long," said Miss Truman, wife of newspaperman Clifton Daniel Jr.

Lodge Permit Suspended By Liquor Board

Loyal Order of Moose Lodge 122 has been handed a 70-day suspension of its private club liquor permit by the State Liquor Control Board at Columbus on gambling charges that stem from police confiscation of two pinball machines several months ago.

The suspension will begin Sunday, Sept. 28, and continue until midnight Thursday, Dec. 4, the liquor board said. The lodge recently moved into its new home on E. 3rd St., vacating the building at E. 4th and Washington Sts. that it occupied for many years.

The board suspended the lodge permit on charges of possessing gambling devices and permitting gambling on a licensed premises. A club officer was fined in Municipal Court on a gambling charge after police hauled away two pinball machines that they charged were capable of registering "free games." The "free game" counter makes them gambling devices in the eyes of the state law and the Liquor Control Board regulations.

Officers first were summoned to the lodge home to investigate a burglary. When the marble boards were discovered, a city truck was called to haul them away.

Clinical Director Dies

GREENWOOD, S.C. (AP) — Dr. William Ussery Gunn, 38, clinical director of Whitten Village, a state institution for handicapped children at Clinton, S.C., died Tuesday after a brief illness. He was born in Harlan, Ky.

3 Flee Jail At Coshocton, One Captured

COSHOCTON, Ohio (AP)—Three prisoners broke out of Coshocton County Jail here today, but another prisoner alerted the sheriff and one escapee was picked up a short time later.

Still loose and object of a county-wide search are Elmer Monk, 24, of nearby West Lafayette, and Winnie Earl Sanderson Jr., 20, of Coshocton.

Mrs. William Hoop, wife of the sheriff, said Monk is a parole violator and presumably dangerous, although neither he or Sanderson are believed armed.

The break occurred around 1 a.m. and about three hours later one escapee, Victor Eugene Rothenstein, 18, of Coshocton, was apprehended while wandering along a street here. He surrendered meekly.

All three escapees were being held on charges of breaking and entering.

Mrs. Hoop said the escapees, who comprised three of the jail's 12 prisoners, were in a center bullpen or corridor between the cells. She said they pried open a little used door at one end of the bullpen and escaped through a section of the jail being remodeled.

That section had a window open with its bars removed.

Out Of The Air

By JOHN CROSBY

Where It Would All End

In "The Wound Within," Farley Granger, playing a rather unlikely and hysterical Sigmund Freud, is railled at repeatedly by his wife, Martha, to leave the "unknowable" alone, to stop monkeying around with the mind and get back to acceptable nerve practice where a doctor can clean up.

John Crosby

This is libel on Martha Freud, but it is, of course, standard behavior for all wives of scientists, explorers or adventurers in all dramatic stories of this sort.

"Why can't we live like the other explorers?" wails the wife. "Do you have to discover the North Pole?"

A variant on this: "Why does it have to be you who has to break the sound barrier?" whimpers the wife who is almost certainly played by June Allyson. "Why can't somebody else's husband break the barrier?"

-:-

BESIDES FENDING off his own wife, the scientist is beset on all sides by those who assure him there is no such thing as radium or: "Damn it, Pasteur! What is the nonsense about germs?"

In this case, the head of the medical society (or some such thing), sneers: "So now you're delving into a wound in the soul, my dear Freud. . . . This is medicine, not witchcraft. Once you open the doors of the human soul, God knows where it will all end!"

That speech, too, is sort of standard operating procedure. The crusty old medical reactionary first denies the existence of germs and then says it would be a terrible idea to discover them anyhow.

This speech, with the change of a word or two, can be made to fit almost any number of dramas:

"Chris, give up this madness about discovering a New World! Besides, you might run into Indians, and they're dangerous."

Or: "Split the atom? In the first place, it's impossible and in the second place who wants to open a can of peas?"

-:-

"THE WOUND WITHIN" which was by Henry Denker on the United States Steel Hour, was based on an incident in Freud's life about the cure of a case of hysterical paralysis by a combination of hypnosis and primitive analysis.

And, apart from the fact that Freud got much too emotional about his discovery to be quite plausible, the incident was quite touching.

The patient's discovery that her paralyzed limbs were caused by deep-seated guilt feelings stemming from the death of her sister was a very moving moment. I don't care how often it's done, when the patient throws the crutches away and walks, it packs an awfully dramatic wallop.

"A wound in the mind," says Freud at the closing. "We found it and opened it and drained the poison from it. What happened today is not the end but the beginning. You can't imagine how they're going to fight it."

-:-

"THEY," of course, are the reactionary medical element who said, in Jack Lescoulie's immortal words, it couldn't be done. I suppose they did fight it but analysis got accepted and now it's on the United States Steel Hour which means it's about as controversial as the American flag.

In fact, now the mossbacks in the medical profession are likely to be psychiatrists and analysts whose procedures hardly have improved in 50 years, whose treatment still takes years and years and endless money and still is marked by an unholy incidence of total failure or at best very incomplete success.

And yet, if you should whisper that perhaps their antiquated methods might be speeded up, or perhaps there might be whole new avenues of psychiatric exploration that ought to be looked into, you know what would happen?

"They" would sneer at you: "So you think there's another way to cure neuroses? What are you—a Communist or something? This is medicine, not witchcraft. Besides, if you did find a speedy way to cure emotional illness, God knows where it would all end."

Well, I know where it would all end. Warner Brothers would make a picture of it with Paul Muni—and I could write the script right now.

Council Airs Ways To Raise General Fund

Palestine Council Told Committee To Seek New Revenues

EAST PALESTINE — Council asked for a report of city finances, especially the general fund, at its meeting Monday night with the possibility that some action can be taken to provide additional operating money.

It was pointed out that the general fund has been at a low ebb several years and at the start of this month had only $151. This balance was possible only because funds were transferred from the parking meter department.

Frank Early, chairman of Council's finance committee, said his committee will meet within a few days to make a study of possible sources of additional money.

Councilmen discussed the possibility of borrowing funds from the electric light fund, but no decision was reached.

County officials for several years urged Council to submit operating levy and it was placed on the ballot last year and defeated.

Councilmen several months ago considered submitting an operating levy on the November 4 ballot but later agreed that with three local issues already up for a vote, a fourth might jeopardize the others.

Local voters, over a period of years, have renewed a 1-mill levy for street maintainance and a similar issue for City Park every two years.

In November, voters will also decide the fate of a special levy to provide funds for purchase of a new fire truck.

The general fund is used primarily to pay salaries of policemen, firemen and various elective officers, along with the expenses of safety department equipment.

Mayor Paul Merwin advised Council that he felt the city could purchase a late model used car to replace the present police cruiser, a 1954 model with almost 90,000 miles.

The present cruiser has required a considerable expense in upkeep and needs additional repairs.

Council agreed to contact at dealers concerning the trade-in of the cruiser.

Merwin also advised Council that Charles Snyder, county engineer, inspected the creek leading from the city lake to the disposal plant Thursday.

Snyder said the county can not enter upon private property to clean out the creek bed unless a bridge was being damaged.

City officials had asked for county assistance in cleaning a portion of the creek south from the light plant to Park Ave. and also an area between Park Dr. and the disposal plant.

The creek is threatening several properties in the area surveyed.

Lowering and cleaning of the creek bed was deemed necessary to carry off water following heavy rains. It was decided to continue efforts to have the creek cleaned this fall.

Frank Early, vice president, presided in the absence of Robert Morris, president.

Knowles Engineer To Head Program For ACS Division

W. D. Packman, chief ceramic engineer at the Edwin M. Knowles China Co., will serve as program chairman for technical sessions of the White Wares Division of the American Ceramic Society Sept. 25-27 at Bedford Springs, Pa.

About 35 are expected to attend from East Liverpool area ceramic plants. The total attendance will hit about 500, including dinnerware, sanitary ware and wall tile manufacturers and suppliers from all over the United States.

Packman also will serve as chairman of the division's session Sept. 27. Packman resides on the Bell School Rd. in St. Clair Township. He joined the American Ceramic Society in 1938.

Harry Thiemecke of the Homer Laughlin China Co. is White Wares Division trustee. He resides on Forsyth Pl.

Man's First Space Trip Delayed; Too Much Radiation

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Man's first space journey has been indefinitely postponed. Too much radiation.

So says Dr. Albert R. Hibbs, chief of research analysis at Caltech's Jet Propulsion Laboratory. A band of radiation surrounding the earth is much more intense than was believed, he reported Tuesday.

Dr. Hibbs, back from the International Astronautical Federation convention in Amsterdam, said the intensity was disclosed by the U.S. satellites Explorers I and II and reported in detail by Explorer IV.

He told a California Disaster Office meeting: "Until we can set the boundaries for this radiation field, we cannot even estimate the amount of protective shielding which will be required to enable a man to travel safely through this extremely hostile environment."

PUC To Decide Ohio Edison Plea From Ordinance

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Whether Ohio Edison Co. can go ahead with its appeal from Massillon's electric rate ordinance will be decided soon by the Utilities Commission.

The commission Tuesday heard arguments on a motion by Massillon City Solicitor Richard F. Maier to dismiss the appeal. Maier claims the commission does not have the right to tell Massillon how it shall pay its street lighting bills.

Ohio Edison objected to the ordinance because it gives the city the right to pass street lighting bills on to residential and secondary electricity users through surcharges.

Attorney D. Bruce Mansfield, representing the company, told the commission the company believes it can justify charging higher rates in Massillon. He said the company has notified Akron and Youngstown that it wants to negotiate for higher rates there.

Rotarians See Film On Roads

City Officials Guests For Movie Screening

Rotary Club members and guests viewed a film illustrating the urgency of a new federal highway system at a meeting Tuesday noon in the Travelers Hotel.

The color film, "We'll Take the High Road," pointed out how obsolete are some of the state's present highways, which cannot handle the heavy volume of traffic while more is expected in the future. It explained some of the long-range planning required to provide more highway facilities.

Present from the State Highway Department's Division 11 office at New Philadelphia were William Quicksall, deputy director, and Levi Kimball, chief of location and design.

Joe Mundo and Sam Kennedy, representatives of the Michael Baker Jr., Inc., engineering firm at Rochester, also attended.

City officials at the meeting included Mayor Fred Lawrence, Dan Maggianetti, safety-service director; George Blomgren, city engineer; B. E. Warner, president of Council, and Councilmen Sam Webber and George Willshaw.

Mrs. Grace Ruth of New York, who is heading the Civic Music Association membership drive, was a guest of Allen Babb. Atty. Francis Lang was program chairman. Dean Wilhelm, president, presided. About 75 attended.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures will average 3-4 degrees above normal. Normal high 74 north, 78 south. Normal low 54-56. Cool Thursday, then a warming trend Friday through Monday. Rainfall will average one-half to one inch in showers east tonight and over the state late Sunday and Monday.

FALSE TEETH
That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Get FASTEETH at drug counters everywhere.

Calendar To Show Picture Of School

The South Side Joint Schools Parent-Teacher Association Monday night decided that the school's picture will be used on the calendar the PTA is sponsoring.

Mrs. Virginia Powell, chairman and the ways and means committee, decided also to canvass the community for names for the birthday calendar.

A representative will be sent to the Pennsylvania Parent-Teacher Association meeting at Erie, Oct. 6-8. No one has been named yet.

Victor Thomas Jr., supervising principal, introduced new teachers. Harry Lutton and Mrs. Charles Brooks led singing.

The group will meet Oct. 13 at 8 p.m. in the elementary building at Hookstown.

By JOHN CROSBY

Where It Would All End

In "The Wound Within," Farley Granger, playing a rather unlikely and hysterical Sigmund Freud, is railled at repeatedly by his wife, Martha, to leave the "unknowable" alone, to stop monkeying around with the mind and get back to acceptable nerve practice where a doctor can clean up.

John Crosby

This is libel on Martha Freud, but it is, of course, standard behavior for all wives of scientists, explorers or adventurers in all dramatic stories of this sort.

"Why can't we live like the other explorers?" wails the wife. "Do you have to discover the North Pole?"

A variant on this: "Why does it have to be you who has to break the sound barrier?" whimpers the wife who is almost certainly played by June Allyson. "Why can't somebody else's husband break the barrier?"

-:-

BESIDES FENDING off his own wife, the scientist is beset on all sides by those who assure him there is no such thing as radium or: "Damn it, Pasteur! What is the nonsense about germs?"

In this case, the head of the medical society (or some such thing), sneers: "So now you're delving into a wound in the soul, my dear Freud. . . . This is medicine, not witchraft. Once you open the doors of the human soul, God knows where it will all end!"

That speech, too, is sort of standard operating procedure. The crusty old medical reactionary first denies the existence of germs and then says it would be a terrible idea to discover them anyhow.

This speech, with the change of a word or two, can be made to fit almost any number of dramas:

"Chris, give up this madness about discovering a New World! Besides, you might run into Indians, and they're dangerous."

Or: "Split the atom? In the first place, it's impossible and in the second place who wants to open a can of peas?"

-:-

"THE WOUND WITHIN" which was by Henry Denker on the United States Steel Hour, was based on an incident in Freud's life about the cure of a case of hysterical paralysis by a combination of hypnosis and primitive analysis.

And, apart from the fact that Freud got much too emotional about his discovery to be quite plausible, the incident was quite touching.

The patient's discovery that her paralyzed limbs were caused by deep-seated guilt feelings stemming from the death of her sister was a very moving moment. I don't care how often it's done, when the patient throws the crutches away and walks, it packs an awfully dramatic wallop.

"A wound in the mind," says Freud at the closing. "We found it and opened it and drained the poison from it. What happened today is not the end but the beginning. You can't imagine how they're going to fight it."

-:-

"THEY," of course, are the reactionary medical element who said, in Jack Lescoulie's immortal words, it couldn't be done. I suppose they did fight it but analysis got accepted and now it's on the United States Steel Hour which means it's about as controversial as the American flag.

In fact, now the mossbacks in the medical profession are likely to be psychiatrists and analysts whose procedures hardly have improved in 50 years, whose treatment still takes years and years and endless money and still is marked by an unholy incidence of total failure or at best very incomplete success.

And yet, if you should whisper that perhaps their antiquated methods might be speeded up, or perhaps there might be whole new avenues of psychiatric exploration that ought to be looked into, you know what would happen?

"They" would sneer at you: "So you think there's another way to cure neuroses? What are you—a Communist or something? This is medicine, not witchcraft. Besides, if you did find a speedy way to cure emotional illness, God knows where it would all end."

Well, I know where it would all end. Warner Brothers would make a picture of it with Paul Muni—and I could write the script right now.

Council Airs Ways To Raise General Fund

Palestine Council Told Committee To Seek New Revenues

EAST PALESTINE — Council asked for a report of city finances, especially the general fund, at its meeting Monday night with the possibility that some action can be taken to provide additional operating money.

It was pointed out that the general fund has been at a low ebb several years and at the start of this month had only $151. This balance was possible only because funds were transferred from the parking meter department.

Frank Early, chairman of Council's finance committee, said his committee will meet within a few days to make a study of possible sources of additional money.

Councilmen discussed the possibility of borrowing funds from the electric light fund, but no decision was reached.

County officials for several years urged Council to submit operating levy and it was placed on the ballot last year and defeated.

Councilmen several months ago considered submitting an operating levy on the November 4 ballot but later agreed that with three local issues already up for a vote, a fourth might jeopardize the others.

Local voters, over a period of years, have renewed a 1-mill levy for street maintainance and a similar issue for City Park every two years.

In November, voters will also decide the fate of a special levy to provide funds for purchase of a new fire truck.

The general fund is used primarily to pay salaries of policemen, firemen and various elective officers, along with the expenses of safety department equipment.

Mayor Paul Merwin advised Council that he felt the city could purchase a late model used car to replace the present police cruiser, a 1954 model with almost 90,000 miles.

The present cruiser has required a considerable expense in upkeep and needs additional repairs.

Council agreed to contact at dealers concerning the trade-in of the cruiser.

Merwin also advised Council that Charles Snyder, county engineer, inspected the creek leading from the city lake to the disposal plant Thursday.

Snyder said the county can not enter upon private property to clean out the creek bed unless a bridge was being damaged.

City officials had asked for county assistance in cleaning a portion of the creek south from the light plant to Park Ave. and also an area between Park Dr. and the disposal plant.

The creek is threatening several properties in the area surveyed.

Lowering and cleaning of the creek bed was deemed necessary to carry off water following heavy rains. It was decided to continue efforts to have the creek cleaned this fall.

Frank Early, vice president, presided in the absence of Robert Morris, president.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Man's first space journey has been indefinitely postponed. Too much radiation.

So says Dr. Albert R. Hibbs, chief of research analysis at Caltech's Jet Propulsion Laboratory. A band of radiation surrounding the earth is much more intense than was believed, he reported Tuesday.

Dr. Hibbs, back from the International Astronautical Federation convention in Amsterdam, said the intensity was disclosed by the U.S. satellites Explorers I and II and reported in detail by Explorer IV.

He told a California Disaster Office meeting: "Until we can set the boundaries for this radiation field, we cannot even estimate the amount of protective shielding which will be required to enable a man to travel safely through this extremely hostile environment."

PUC To Decide Ohio Edison Plea From Ordinance

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Whether Ohio Edison Co. can go ahead with its appeal from Massillon's electric rate ordinance will be decided soon by the Utilities Commission.

The commission Tuesday heard arguments on a motion by Massillon City Solicitor Richard F. Maier to dismiss the appeal. Maier claims the commission does not have the right to tell Massillon how it shall pay its street lighting bills.

Ohio Edison objected to the ordinance because it gives the city the right to pass street lighting bills on to residential and secondary electricity users through surcharges.

Attorney D. Bruce Mansfield, representing the company, told the commission the company believes it can justify charging higher rates in Massillon. He said the company has notified Akron and Youngstown that it wants to negotiate for higher rates there.

Rotarians See Film On Roads

City Officials Guests For Movie Screening

Rotary Club members and guests viewed a film illustrating the urgency of a new federal highway system at a meeting Tuesday noon in the Travelers Hotel.

The color film, "We'll Take the High Road," pointed out how obsolete are some of the state's present highways, which cannot handle the heavy volume of traffic while more is expected in the future. It explained some of the long-range planning required to provide more highway facilities.

Present from the State Highway Department's Division 11 office at New Philadelphia were William Quicksall, deputy director, and Levi Kimball, chief of location and design.

Joe Mundo and Sam Kennedy, representatives of the Michael Baker Jr., Inc., engineering firm at Rochester, also attended.

City officials at the meeting included Mayor Fred Lawrence, Dan Maggianetti, safety-service director; George Blomgren, city engineer; B. E. Warner, president of Council, and Councilmen Sam Webber and George Willshaw.

Mrs. Grace Ruth of New York, who is heading the Civic Music Association membership drive, was a guest of Allen Babb. Atty. Francis Lang was program chairman. Dean Wilhelm, president, presided. About 75 attended.

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Protest Made On Closing Of Freight Depot

Wellsville Council Sends Delegation To Hearing Before PUC

Wellsville City Council Tuesday night went on record opposing a move by the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. to discontinue service at its Wellsville freight station.

A public hearing on the appeal was scheduled for today by the Public Utilities Commission at Columbus. Mayor William J. Shoub and Solicitor William Bush, accompanied by Wilbur MacLean representing the Kiwanis Club, left early this morning to attend.

Kenneth Bell, clerk, was instructed to write a letter of Council's action for the delegation to present to the commission.

In its petition filed in July, the railroad said the agent in East Liverpool will handle all the business. At present, only a clerk is stationed at Wellsville. Passenger service was discontinued in 1947 and for the past few years Wellsville has had only limited service.

Bell was directed also to write to the railroad, asking filling of holes along its property near 12th St. in which water collects. The request had been made before but no action was taken. He was instructed to thank the railroad for cutting of weeds along the right of-way.

In other business, Council adopted a resolution acknowledging receipt of $1,000 from the estate for the perpetual care of the late Charles W. Brannan lot at Springhill Cemetery.

Charles Couts was given permission to cut the curb for a driveway at his newly constructed home at 447 14th Sts.

Legislation was ordered to pay off $4,000 in bonds held by the refuse disposal department.

A claim was received from Angelo Luckino, 506 12th St., who said he cut a tire on a broken cup while backing from his garage, across the street from the Sterling China Co.

The property committee was directed to contact Sterling concerning the condition of its 12th St. dump. The committee's recommendation is that the dump be earth covered and fenced.

Safety - Service Director William Robinson reported Sterling is creating three new parking lots for employes. These are being graded and slagged and will relieve crowded parking conditions on Commerce, 12th and 11th Sts., he said.

Robinson said when the lots are opened, he plans to place a two-hour parking restriction on the streets.

A resident of Nevada St. requested Council study the traffic situation in his neighborhood. Heavy trucks coming from the Allied-Ashland Oil terminal create a hazard for children, he said. He suggested reduction of the speed limit. The matter was referred to the street and light committee.

A report by Treasurer Charles W. Stewart showed a balance of $119,824.02 with $3,150.18 in outstanding checks and $87,863.97 in the sewage disposal fund. Auditor E. S. Davidson's report showed a total balance of $204,537.81.

Scout Tom Greenwade, who signed Mickey Mantle for the New York Yankees, was the first manager of the Burlington, N. C., Alamance Indians of the Carolina League in 1945.

Legion Group Meets At Wellsville Post

The sum of $14.85 was netted from a homemade candy sale at the meeting of County Council of American Legion Auxiliaries at the home of Wellsville Post 70 Tuesday night.

A total of $4 also was received in contributions. Mrs. Doris Excell, president of the hostess auxiliary, extended greetings and Mrs. Ella Mae McCoy, county president, conducted business.

Plans were made to make Christmas corsages at the meeting in October to be sold as a fund-raising project in November.

Six units in the council were reported on the dues-paid list.

The program was under the direction of Mrs. Isabel Hart and Mrs. Louise Lawton, wife of the commander of the Wellsville post, presented piano selections.

Mrs. Hart read an essay, "I Speak for Democracy," written by an area high school student about three years ago.

Lunch was served 30 by the social committee of the hostess group.

The next meeting is Oct. 21 in Leetonia.

To Hire, Recall 400

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Two companies Tuesday announced they will hire or recall about 350 to 400 employees within the next two weeks. Westinghouse Electric Corp. said it will recall 250 furloughed workers and the Fisher stamping plant of General Motors Corp. announced it would add 150 new employees at their field plants.

Firemen At Irondale Will Plan For Social

IRONDALE — Volunteer firemen will meet tonight at 7:30 in the fire station to complete plans for a social to be held Friday from 5:30 to 9 on the vacant lot near the McBane grocery store.

Proceeds will be used towards installation of a new alarm system for the village, Chief Oliver Nicholson said. The present siren near the business section of the village will be moved to the fire station and a new button system installed. Funds from various projects will also be used towards purchase of new equipment.

15 Games Await District Football Fans During Weekend

11 Scheduled This Friday, 4 On Saturday

Another heavy weekend schedule of football awaits district fans Friday and Saturday.

Eleven games are set for Friday, with four more on tap Saturday. Only one of the district's 17 football teams, Irondale, will not play this week because of an open date.

Come Friday, seven teams will be battling for their first victory of the season following either defeats or ties last week. Only one of the teams playing Saturday has yet to win.

SOUTH SIDE will travel to East Washington for an afternoon game at 2:30 to lead off the weekend schedule. South Side took it on the chin in its opener last week, being dropped by Chester, 19-13.

The grid spotlight will be focused on Patterson Field Friday night where East Liverpool's injury-plagued Potters face a rugged foe for the second straight week in Toledo Libbey.

The Potters were tied in their first game last week by Akron St. Vincent, 20-20, while Libbey winning over Lorain, 20-14.

The opener proved costly to the Potters. Varsity center Charlie Barnhouse suffered a broken leg and Jim Clunk probably will be out for the season, too, with a head injury.

Toledo appears in good shape for the Potter battle and will bring to town one of the state's top- flight fullbacks in Bill "Thunder" Thornton, who led the Cowboys to victory over Lorain by scoring a pair of touchdowns.

While the loss of two regular linemen has dampened the Potter chances for a victory, a bright spot is the fact that stellar guard Nick Musuraca may be back in uniform after missing the Akron game with a bruised shoulder.

AT WELLSVILLE, Coach Ken Woods' Tigers will attempt to reorganize following last week's 60-14 thrashing at the hands of Austintown Fitch and get set for visiting Toronto.

The Tigers, although unimpressive in their opener, may give Coach Earl Biederman's Red Knights a real tussle, since both teams seem about equal in size and experience.

The Knights have only three returning regulars from a club that whipped Wellsville last year, 20-7, but may pack the guns to duplicate the feat again this fall.

The Toronto returnees include Jim Brown, 160-pound senior end; Jack Kirkpatrick, 240-pound senior tackle, and John Bucey, 189-pound senior quarterback. The Knight squad lists only 26 members.

Two other promising squads in Columbiana County, Lisbon and Salem, also face tough opposition Friday.

Minerva will be at Lisbon and Salem will travel to Ravenna.

Lisbon High's Blue Devils socked Goshen Union, 13-0, last week while Salem was being whipped by Cleveland John Marshall, 19-12.

At Midland, Coach John Petchel's Leopards will face one of the toughest opponents on their nine - game schedule in powerful Steubenville Catholic Central. Central lost its opener, 12-0, last week to Columbia Acquinas, but still has the manpower to get rolling.

ANOTHER likely power in the county, Coach Bob Mallory's East Palestine Bulldogs, will hit the road this week after scoring a 32-0 victory over St. Clairsville last week on the Palestine gridiron.

While the Bulldogs failed to get any kind of a sustained offensive drive under way in the St. Clairsville game — three touchdowns were made by fleet George Morris on punt returns — all indications are that East Palestine will develop into one of the district's top scoring clubs for the second straight year.

Beau Bell, the district's scoring leader in 1957, failed to tally a single touchdown last week as Morris stole the show with three long punt returns, but could break loose this week.

Newell entertains Hopedale and will be seeking its first win of the new season, after taking two straight drubbings, 60-0, by Weirton Madonna, and 39-7, by New Cumberland.

Other Friday games find New Cumberland traveling to Cameron and Louisville invading Leetonia.

The Saturday schedule pits Beaver Local against Coach Dom Amedeo's Panthers from Chester High, Salineville against Springfield Township at the Jefferson County school, Fairfield-Waterford against Lowellville and United at Dennison St. Mary's for an afternoon game at 2.

Beaver Local, under new coach Jack O'Rourke, surprised Irondale last week, 8-6, while Chester was pulling one out of the fire in whipping South Side, 19-13. The Panthers were tied late in the final quarter but came back strong with an aerial game.

Salineville's passing combination of quarterback Larry Kessler to halfback Rich Dunlap will have to be operating in high gear Saturday if the Indians expect to slip by the high - flying Springfield team. Kessler hit Dunlap with four scoring passes last week as Salineville nipped Darlington, 24-20.

Springfield boasts one of Jefferson County's better halfbacks in Jack Everett, a triple - threater.

Most Former Jockeys Never Die . . . They Become Track Valets Instead

There are few better judges of riding talent than the valets who daily go about their chores in the Waterford Park jockey quarters.

Carrying tack, shining boots and keeping the riders impeccably groomed is their main job, yet it has not been so many years since the majority of them were being attended in the same way by valets of their own.

One such former jockey is Clarence Wright, shown above helping James Choina with his riding boots.

"These kids who knock their brains out trying to make weight are cutting twenty years off their life," he said. "That comes from one who has been through the mill. I used to hit the pike every day of the week for no less than one hour, just to make a $10 bill. Nowadays that fee has been about doubled, but it still doesn't pay to ruin your health.

"The other day at Waterford Park one of the riders sat in the sweat box from one o'clock until four — and then drew a late scratch in the race. Another boy was making the first ride of his career, yet already was in the box getting down to trim. A green boy under such an early handicap would be better off walking hots or digging ditches."

Wright is a member of the older school who isn't too enthusiastic over the hot box compared with the pike as a medium of stripping off poundage.

"The only way to really hit riding trim is to jog around the track in a heavy rubber suit," he insists. "That's how many of the riders take it off. The sweat box trims it like a knife, and if you watch your diet it'll stay off."

Jockey valets, as pointed out earlier, are usually retired, overweight riders. This is as it should be, according to Wright.

"We can tell youngsters more about their mistakes than any owner or trainer," he said. "We made the same errors of judgment in the past, and there are plenty of tricks to the trade if they'll give us an ear.

"I've seen many a promising apprentice spoiled in the first few months by an over - eager trainer who figures a rider should be a machine, and ride every race alike. This isn't possible, especially when they're young and anxious. The old-timers in the room always try to help these kids. And if we can steer just one along the right road it gives us a rare feeling of content. Just watching them in action makes us feel like we're back in the saddle, too, bootin' the babies home."

American League Faces Decline Of Million At Gate

NEW YORK (AP) —The American League entered the final 12 days of the baseball season today faced with the possibility of suffering a decline of one million in attendance.

With the pennant race already over and interest centered only on the league batting competition and the battle for third and fourth places in the standings, the junior circuit shows a deficit of 864,000. Every club in the league is under last year's total except Washington.

The National League is considerably ahead of its 1957 pace. Its teams have played before 9,723,009 fans as compared to 8,413,476 in as many 1957 games.

The largest NL gains have been registered by the transplanted Los Angeles Dodgers and San Francisco Giants, the Pittsburgh Pirates and Chicago Cubs.

1959 Status Of 3 Diamond Figures Dim

CHICAGO (AP) — Reports, rumors and denials today clouded the 1959 status of such major league figures as Fred Hutchinson, Birdie Tebbetts and Eddie Stanky.

If Hutchinson, manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, is headed for the same job with Baltimore, it's news to Oriole chief Paul Richards.

Reports that Tebbetts, ex-manager of Cincinnati, is going into an executive capacity with either St. Louis or Milwaukee, also brought denials.

And to top it all off, Cleveland Coach Stanky would not confirm or deny a report that he will take over at St. Louis as director of player personnel.

With the New York Yankees having won the American League pennant and Milwaukee having all but clinched the National League flag, baseball officials and jobseekers are currently engaged in the greatest rumor spree since the closing days of World War II.

Richards, the only man in the majors to hold the dual position of field manager and general manager, denied a story originating in St. Louis that Hutchinson would take over the Orioles on the field and that he, Richards, would remain in strictly an executive capacity.

"If there are any changes to be made," mused Richards, whose Orioles Tuesday night dropped a 4-3 decision to the Chicago White Sox, "I guess it would be up to the Baltimore owners."

In Pittsburgh, Hutchinson denied having been contacted by the Orioles.

Several reports in the last few days have Hutchinson out as St. Louis manager, to be replaced by Sollie Hemus, Philadelphia infielder and former Cardinal.

Meanwhile, the Cardinals announced they would hold a press conference this afternoon. Prior to the conference, Cardinal officials said they would talk to Hutchinson and his coaching staff.

Now for Tebbetts.

Birdie, who a couple of days ago was reported going to St. Louis in an executive capacity only to have Cardinal officials deny such a move, Tuesday was rumored headed for a similar job with Milwaukee. That, too, lost impetus when Braves' President Joseph Cairnes denied he would be replaced by Tebbetts.

And then there is Stanky.

The former St. Louis manager would not be pinned down whether he has accepted a Cardinal job but the Cleveland Plain Dealer reportered he will take over as director of player personnel with St. Louis.

Cardinal General Manager Bing Devine admitted having talked to Stanky but refused to comment on the talks with the Cleveland coach until the end of the season

UCLA's Favored Over Pitt Eleven

NEW YORK (AP) — Most experts agree there will be confusion galore at the start of the 1958 college football season because of the change in value of some conversions, the almost two-platoon substitution rule and the one-arm blocking.

Those experts are correct. There is confusion. Here are the first selections of the season to prove it.

Georgia Tech over Kentucky: Both teams are bouncing back from poor seasons but Tech will bounce the higher with Fred Braselton ticketed for stardom.

Missouri over Vanderbilt: You can see this one for yourself on your TV screen. Coach Dan Devine brings his multiple offense technical to the Tiger campus and gets off with a victory.

Washington State over Stanford: Bobby Newman, Washington State quarterback, was the nation's leading ground gainer last year and is back for more action. Stanford's entire backfield was graduated.

Penn State over Nebraska: The Pennsylvania Lions are mature at every position while Nebraska still is trying to learn the single wing plays added to the Huskers split-T formation of the past.

UCLA over Pittsburgh: Lack of expert tackles will hurt Panthers in this intersectional clash.

North Carolina over North Carolina State: Coach Jim Tatum has 22 lettermen back and admits this is the best team he has had since starting coach at North Carolina. State whipped the Tar Heels the past two years and this will be for blood.

Maryland over Wake Forest: The 13th loss in a row for Wake Forest.

TCU over Kansas: The Texas Frogs have added a passing attack to their 1957 running game. They also are big and fast.

Oregon State over Southern California: A Friday night encounter that sends Oregon State's veteran array against Trojan sophomores.

Duke over South Carolina: A squeaker that likely will be decided by one of those new fangled conversions.

Oklahoma State over Denver: The Oklahoma Cowpokes are getting ready to move into the Big Eight circuit.

Texas over Georgia: The defense minded Texans will turn Bobby Lackey loose often enough to halt the Bulldogs.

Skipping over the others in a hurry:

Friday night: Detroit over George Washington, Davidson over Catawba.

Saturday:

East: Boston College over Scranton, Villanova over West Chester State.

South: Clemson over Virginia, Florida State over Furman, Florida over Tulane, Mississippi over Memphis State, Virginia Tech over West Texas State, Virginia Military over Morehead State, West Virginia over Richmond.

Midwest: Bradley over Butler, Cincinnati over Dayton, Iowa State over Drake, Wyoming over Kansas State, Marquette over South Dakota State, Wichita over Bowling Green.

Far West: Arizona State over Hawaii, Utah State over Arizona, Brigham Young over Fresno State, Oregon over Idaho, Utah over Montana.

Southwest: Arkansas over Baylor, Louisiana State over Rice, Texas A&M over Texas Tech.

15 Games Await District Football Fans During Weekend

11 Scheduled This Friday, 4 On Saturday

Another heavy weekend schedule of football awaits district fans Friday and Saturday.

Eleven games are set for Friday, with four more on tap Saturday. Only one of the district's 17 football teams, Irondale, will not play this week because of an open date.

Come Friday, seven teams will be battling for their first victory of the season following either defeats or ties last week. Only one of the teams playing Saturday has yet to win.

SOUTH SIDE will travel to East Washington for an afternoon game at 2:30 to lead off the weekend schedule. South Side took it on the chin in its opener last week, being dropped by Chester, 19-13.

The grid spotlight will be focused on Patterson Field Friday night where East Liverpool's injury-plagued Potters face a rugged foe for the second straight week in Toledo Libbey.

The Potters were tied in their first game last week by Akron St. Vincent, 20-20, while Libbey winning over Lorain, 20-14.

The opener proved costly to the Potters. Varsity center Charlie Barnhouse suffered a broken leg and Jim Clunk probably will be out for the season, too, with a head injury.

Toledo appears in good shape for the Potter battle and will bring to town one of the state's top- flight fullbacks in Bill "Thunder" Thornton, who led the Cowboys to victory over Lorain by scoring a pair of touchdowns.

While the loss of two regular linemen has dampened the Potter chances for a victory, a bright spot is the fact that stellar guard Nick Musuraca may be back in uniform after missing the Akron game with a bruised shoulder.

AT WELLSVILLE, Coach Ken Woods' Tigers will attempt to reorganize following last week's 60-14 thrashing at the hands of Austintown Fitch and get set for visiting Toronto.

The Tigers, although unimpressive in their opener, may give Coach Earl Biederman's Red Knights a real tussle, since both teams seem about equal in size and experience.

The Knights have only three returning regulars from a club that whipped Wellsville last year, 20-7, but may pack the guns to duplicate the feat again this fall.

The Toronto returnees include Jim Brown, 160-pound senior end; Jack Kirkpatrick, 240-pound senior tackle, and John Bucey, 189-pound senior quarterback. The Knight squad lists only 26 members.

Two other promising squads in Columbiana County, Lisbon and Salem, also face tough opposition Friday.

Minerva will be at Lisbon and Salem will travel to Ravenna.

Lisbon High's Blue Devils socked Goshen Union, 13-0, last week while Salem was being whipped by Cleveland John Marshall, 19-12.

At Midland, Coach John Petchel's Leopards will face one of the toughest opponents on their nine - game schedule in powerful Steubenville Catholic Central. Central lost its opener, 12-0, last week to Columbia Acquinas, but still has the manpower to get rolling.

ANOTHER likely power in the county, Coach Bob Mallory's East Palestine Bulldogs, will hit the road this week after scoring a 32-0 victory over St. Clairsville last week on the Palestine gridiron.

While the Bulldogs failed to get any kind of a sustained offensive drive under way in the St. Clairsville game — three touchdowns were made by fleet George Morris on punt returns — all indications are that East Palestine will develop into one of the district's top scoring clubs for the second straight year.

Beau Bell, the district's scoring leader in 1957, failed to tally a single touchdown last week as Morris stole the show with three long punt returns, but could break loose this week.

Newell entertains Hopedale and will be seeking its first win of the new season, after taking two straight drubbings, 60-0, by Weirton Madonna, and 39-7, by New Cumberland.

Other Friday games find New Cumberland traveling to Cameron and Louisville invading Leetonia.

The Saturday schedule pits Beaver Local against Coach Dom Amedeo's Panthers from Chester High, Salineville against Springfield Township at the Jefferson County school, Fairfield-Waterford against Lowellville and United at Dennison St. Mary's for an afternoon game at 2.

Beaver Local, under new coach Jack O'Rourke, surprised Irondale last week, 8-6, while Chester was pulling one out of the fire in whipping South Side, 19-13. The Panthers were tied late in the final quarter but came back strong with an aerial game.

Salineville's passing combination of quarterback Larry Kessler to halfback Rich Dunlap will have to be operating in high gear Saturday if the Indians expect to slip by the high - flying Springfield team. Kessler hit Dunlap with four scoring passes last week as Salineville nipped Darlington, 24-20.

Springfield boasts one of Jefferson County's better halfbacks in Jack Everett, a triple - threater.

Burdette Posts 18th, Eyes 20 And Best Season In Majors

Braves' Magic Number Now 3; Bucs Win Pair

By The Associated Press

Lew Burdette, a betroubled World Series hero at the All-Star game, now has a shot at 20 victories and his winningest season in the majors.

The big right-hander who had only a 6-7 record in early July, has won 12 of 15 decisions since. And he's won seven of his last eight, with two shutouts and three one-run games for a 1.08 earned run average over the past month.

Burdette, whose best winning year was 1956, when he was 19-10, nailed his 18th Tuesday night as the Milwaukee Braves whipped San Francisco 4-1 and cut their magic number for a second straight National League pennant to three.

Pittsburgh chopped its magic number for second place to two, beating St. Louis 3-1 after wrapping up a 2-1 victory in the completion of a game suspended Aug. 3. Cincinnati took a twi-night pair from Los Angeles 5-3 and 7-5 in 10 innings, The Chicago Cubs beat Philadelphia 10-8 in 10.

In the American League, Detroit whipped New York 4-2, the Chicago White Sox defeated Baltimore 4-3, and Cleveland beat Washington 5-1.

Burdette gave up seven hits, one a fifth-inning homer by Bill White. The Braves beat Johnny Antonelli (15-13) with three in the seventh, when three errors followed Felix Mantilla's leadoff triple.

Rookie right-hander George Witt (9-2) backed up by Bob Skinner's RBI singles, became the first NL pitcher to win seven in a row this year as the Pirates finished last month's curfewed game. The Bucs six games behind Milwaukee, won the nightcap with Dick Stuart and Skinner driving in all the runs. Each had three hits. Ron Kline (13-15) won it. Wilmer Mizell (10-13) and Bob Mabe (2-7) were the losers.

A pinch, two-run homer by Smoky Burgess won the nightcap for the Redlegs, who took the opener on home runs by Jerry Lynch, Pete Whisenant and rookie Dutch Dotterer that doomed the Dodgers to their first sub .500 season since 1944. Brooks Lawrence (8-12) and Tom Acker (4-3) were the winners. Johnny Podres (13-14) and Johnny Klippstein (6-6) took the defeats.

A two-run single by Al Dark bagged it for the Cubs and gave rookie John Buzhardt his first major league decision. Rookie Don Erickson lost his first for the Phils.

Nonpareil Club Asks United Effort In Patterson Field Improvements

A campaign to improve facilities at Patterson Field through a joint community effort was launched Tuesday night by the Blue and White Nonpareil Club during its meeting in the YMCA. Fifty-six attended.

According to plans, letters will be sent to city and school officials, the Chamber of Commerce and heads of the various service clubs emphasizing the need for repairs to Patterson Field and urging support in the improvement program.

The club listed the deterioration of the field's bleachers, lack of paint on fences and other parts of the physical plant and poor condition of locker rooms for both the Potters and visiting teams as being most important points for consideration.

President H. A. Tullis and Don Burbick, vice president, will head an investigating committee to obtain information as to who is responsible for repairs to the field.

Potter football coach Lou Venditti discussed scouting reports of Toledo Libbey's powerful team which East Liverpool meets Friday and said that "the Potters will probably get beat by at least two touchdowns".

Venditti's cause for dismay is not unwarranted as the Cowboys will bring to Patterson Field a fast and heavy team headed by possibly the best fullback in the state this year in Bill "Thunder" Thornton, a hard - running three-year veteran.

Venditti also pointed out that the loss of Charlie Barnhouse and Jim Clunk through injuries will hurt the Potters' chances for a victory. Both, who will be out for the remainder of the season, were being counted on as line regulars this year.

Barnhouse, who started at center in the 20-20 tie with Akron St. Vincent in last week's opener, suffered a broken leg while Clunk, 185-pound tackle, will miss the rest of the games because of a head injury.

Dick Forzano and Dick Waggle, co - chairmen of the membership drive now under way, reported 123 members signed last week. The goal is at least 500.

Movies were screened by Venditti on the Potter - Akron St. Vincent game. The next meeting will be Tuesday night at 8 in the YMCA.

Minor League Realignment, Tieup With Majors Discussed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A possible realignment of minor baseball leagues and a suggested partnership between major and minor leagues are being discussed at a meeting of 59 baseball officials here, but no action has been taken.

George M. Trautman, president of the National Assn. of Professional Baseball Leagues, the minor leagues said: "A fair amount of progress was made on the proposed realignment."

But he added the discussion Tuesday night was only exploratory.

He would not name cities mentioned in the possible changes because he said it is always damaging to the communities involved.

Basically, Trautman reported, the changes would be wherever needed to better transportation facilities or to create more geographical rivalry.

Attending the two-day meeting are minor league presidents, major league farm directors and club officials. Trautman said the conference is merely for discussion of problems. No action will be taken.

Trautman named Earl Mann of Atlanta, Hillman Lyons of Charleston and Sam Smith Jr., of Dothan, Ala., as minor league members of a nine-man committee to meet Sept. 23-24 with Commissioner Ford Frick in New York to study a new bonus rule.

Tree roots, rags, grease—these are some of the causes of clogged sewers and drains. That's why it requires the electric ROTO-ROOTER machine to remove the stoppage and thoroughly clean the line. No damage or muss, quick, courteous service.

Frank Lary Now Among All-Time Yankee Killers

DETROIT (AP) — Don't drag out that old "Break up the Yankees" routine around Frank Lary.

Without them, the drawling son of an Alabama peach farmer is just another pitcher. But because of them, the 27-year-old Detroit Tiger right-hander is a big league success.

Lary defeated the American League champions Tuesday for the 16th time in 21 career decisions, pitching a brilliant three-hitter in a 4-2 triumph that tightened the Tiger grip on third place.

This is the seventh victory and sixth complete game in eight starts this year for Lary against New York, and he has yielded only 14 earned runs in 67 2-3 innings.

Despite his so-so record against other clubs, Lary now ranks among the all-time Yankee killers. Big Ed Walsh, now critically ill with cancer, posted a 9-1 record against the cellar-dwelling bombers of 1908 and a 7-3 mark against the 1911 New York team that finished sixth. Ed Cicotte matched Lary's 7-1 mark back in 1916 against a fourth-place Yankee crew.

"Well, sir," said the craftsman Casey Stengel calls the Little Bulldog, "I just don't know where I'd be without those Yankees."

The Yankee manager was in no mood to talk about Lary's accomplishments. "If I knew what was causing me a headache," said Stengel, "don't you think I'd go out and get me a cure?"

"I don't pitch any differently against New York than against any other team," said Lary. "Sure, I have confidence when I go against them and everybody likes to beat the Yankees. But maybe they have the idea they can't beat me. That would help, wouldn't it?"

Montreal-Toronto Open Final Series In International

By The Associated Press

Things worked out like everyone thought they would in the International League final playoffs for the Governor's Cup. And all despite those rumblings from the Columbus Jets.

Pennant winner Montreal killed the Jets' hopes of a final playoff berth against Toronto with a sound 11-0 spanking Tuesday night in the seventh and deciding game of their semifinal series.

Tonight Toronto, second in the final standings and the only team to hold an edge over Montreal in season play (11-10), opens the final best-of-seven series in Montreal.

The Leafs eliminated Rochester in five games and were the odds-on choice to battle Montreal for the right to meet the American Assn. titlist in the Little World Series.

The Royals raked four Columbus pitchers for 15 hits as Billy Harris got his second win in the semifinal series. Whammy Douglas lost, a victim of a five-run third-inning that sewed up things for the Royals.

Braves' Magic Number Now 3; Bucs Win Pair

By The Associated Press

Lew Burdette, a betroubled World Series hero at the All-Star game, now has a shot at 20 victories and his winningest season in the majors.

The big right-hander who had only a 6-7 record in early Juiy, has won 12 of 15 decisions since. And he's won seven of his last eight, with two shutouts and three one-run games for a 1.08 earned run average over the past month.

Burdette, whose best winning year was 1956, when he was 19-10, nailed his 18th Tuesday night as the Milwaukee Braves whipped San Francisco 4-1 and cut their magic number for a second straight National League pennant to three.

Pittsburgh chopped its magic number for second place to two, beating St. Louis 3-1 after wrapping up a 2-1 victory in the completion of a game suspended Aug. 3. Cincinnati took a twi-night pair from Los Angeles 5-3 and 7-5 in 10 innings, The Chicago Cubs beat Philadelphia 10-8 in 10.

Tigers' Lary Defeats Yankees For 7th Time This Season

Frank's First To Turn Trick In 42 Years

By The Associated Press

Even Casey Stengel was a pup in 1916. Which should give you an idea of just how long it's been since any pitcher beat the New York Yankees seven times in one season.

That's what Frank Lary, a losing right-hander against the rest of the American League, pulled off Tuesday, beating the champs 4-2 at Detroit with a three-hitter.

Ed Cicotte was 7-1 against New York in 1916.

While the Tigers gained nothing less than a season tie with the Yankees, Chicago's second-place White Sox beat Baltimore 4-3 and Cleveland tied Boston for fourth by beating Washington 5-1 on rookie Gary Bell's two-hitter. Boston was rained out at Kansas City.

In the National League, the Milwaukee Braves cut their magic number to three by beating San Francisco 4-1. Pittsburgh defeated St. Louis 3-1 after winning 2-1 in the completion of a game suspended Aug. 3. Cincinnati took a twi-night pair from Los Angeles 5-3 and 7-5 in 10 innings. The Chicago Cubs beat Philadelphia 10-8 in 10.

Lary, 7-1 against the Yankees this season, gave up singles to Tony Kubek in the fourth inning and Jerry Lumpe and Marv Throneberry in the fifth. But they were good for a 2-0 Yankee lead as relief ace Ryne Duren pitched a four-hit shutout over five innings in his first start. The Tigers then scored off rookie Zack Monroe (4-2) in the sixth, and won it on Gus Zernial's pinch, two-run double in the seventh.

Sherm Lollar's 20th home run capped a tying, three-run third for the White Sox, who bagged it on Billy Goodman's single, a walk and Bubba Phillips' third single in the eighth. Dick Donovan (14-13) won it. Hoyt Wilhelm (2-10) was the loser.

Bell (11-8), who pitched six innings of no-hit ball against Boston in his last start, put down the Senators on a first-inning single by Herb Plews and a ninth-inning single by rookie Bob Allison. The Nats scored in the eighth on two walks and a sacrifice fly. Bell also was 4-for-4, driving in a run in a four-run seventh against loser Pete Ramos (14-15).

Bears Place Waivers On Four Of Players

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Bears have placed waivers on four players, including eight-year veteran end Bill Wightkin, former Notre Dame football star.

Wightkin announced his retirement Tuesday and took a Bear scouting job.

The Bears, unbeaten in five exhibition football games this year, also asked waivers on Bobby Watkins, four year veteran halfback from Ohio State; M. L. Brackett, third year tackle from Auburn and Dick Lucas, rookie end from Boston College.

Pirates Sign Catcher For Sizeable Bonus

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates said today they paid a sizeable but undisclosed bonus to catcher Thomas E. O'Connor for signing a contract with the club's Columbus team in the International League.

General Manager Joe L. Brown said the 21-year-old Manhattan College senior was sought after by several major league teams.

Garden In 33rd Year

NEW YORK (AP)—Madison Square Garden, now 33 years old, is spending $300,000 making extensive alterations in its balcony. Last year three sets of reversible escalators were installed in the Garden at a cost of a half million dollars.

FIELD AND STREAM

By R. L. LIDE

Improvements are being made at Zepernick Lake for the benefit of the fishermen.

The concession stand has been completed along with the fishing pier and come next spring some one will be in charge of the boat landing. Boats will be available so the anglers can get out on the lake and try their luck around the numerous logs and stumps where the big bass hang out.

Next on the agenda will be the erection of sanitary facilities and a well will be drilled.

Anyone interested in drilling the well and erecting the sanitary facilities should get in touch with the Ohio Division of Wildlife, Box 2751, Akron, after which specifications and bid blanks will be furnished.

The land area at Zepernick's has been well stocked with pheasants and will be open for public hunting on opening date Nov. 15.

—:—

LIKEWISE, the Highlandtown area has received a generous stocking of pheasants and a few broods were hatched, according to Howard Hothem, game production foreman. More birds will be stocked this week.

These two areas can be hunted with comfort without fear of reprimands from the land owners, since this is public property.

Sportsmen in Stark County have approximately 4,000 pen - reared pheasants now flying out of the pens on club - controlled grounds. They will be ready for the hunters when the season opens.

Naturally, some of the birds will settle down on private as well as public property as the result of the cooperative pheasant - rearing projects between the division of Wildlife and the sportsmen.

No such project is being carried on in this county, but it certainly could be arranged any time the sportsmen make up their minds to provide the rearing pens. This is an inexpensive operation.

—:—

I AM making a sort of last-ditch effort to have some birds released along the Stark - Columbiana line in the hope they will seek refuge in Knox and West Townships.

Remember though, these pheasants belong in Stark County and my efforts are a little along the "sneaky" lines. But I am thinking in terms of benefits for the local nimrods.

The western part of Columbiana County and the northern part is our best pheasant range. However, some pheasants exist as far south as the hills of East Liverpool, Pancakes Corner and West Point.

This is anything but good pheasant range, but the grain crops provide food and cover is plentiful so a few birds live and reproduce regardless of the environment

A reminder — boys under 16 years of age are not permitted to hunt alone. They must be accompanied by a person 21 years of age or older.

Regardless of age, all persons are required to have a hunting license, except the land owner, his children or a bona - fide resident living on the premises. In - laws, cousins, nephews or other relatives not living on the premises also must have a license to hunt.

Ortega Slight Favorite Over Jordan Tonight

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) —Gaspar Ortega, the top-ranked welterweight challenger, was favored slightly in a scheduled 10-round bout here tonight with Don Jordan.

The fight will be televised by ABC at 10 p.m. (EDT).

Sports reporters who have watched both fighters in workouts said Ortega should enter the ring as about an 8-5 favorite.

Despite 20 knockouts, Ortega is given but a 1-3 chance to kayo Jordan, who has never been stopped in climbing to his present No. 6 position among title challengers.

Ortega, who fights out of Tiajuana, Mexico, is expected to weigh about 146 pounds at fight time — some five pounds more than Jordan.

Ortega has a 48-11-2 record, Jordan 41-11-1.

Thomas Jefferson and his wife, Martha Skelton, were parents of six children. Four died in infancy.

Reds Explode Old Power In Sweep Of Two

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati Redleg fans got a nostalgic treat Tuesday night that brought back an old team trademark—power.

The Rhinelanders strewed homers, triples and doubles around Crosley Field in a slugfest that swept a twi-night doubleheader from Los Angeles' Dodgers, 5-3 and 7-5.

A young rookie catcher for the Redlegs — Dutch Dotterer—slammed his first major league homer over the left field wall in the opener, and turned in a four-for-nine performance.

Another catcher, veteran Smoky Burgess, belted a pinch - homer after Dotterer singled in the 10th inning of the nightcap to clinch the victory.

The Reds had let two early leads in the second game slip through their fingers.

In the second inning, the Rhinelanders broke out with four runs off starter Sandy Koufax.

Dodger Duke Snider had slammed his 15th season homer in the first inning after rookie Don Miles' bunt. And Snider in the fifth whacked his 300th major league double, scoring Junior Gilliam who had walked.

But while Snider was on base, a hard liner by rookie Frank Howard carommed off his shoulder and ear, knocking him to the ground. He remained conscious, but team officials sent him to Christ Hospital for X-rays.

The Dodgers tied the score 4-4, in the sixth. Cincinnati pulled away again in the same inning when Jerry Lynch tripled and Vada Pinson doubled.

Another knot came in the next inning on another Dodger run.

It went three more innings before Burgess socked his decisive homer.

In the opener it took an inning of sharp relief work by young rookie Orlando Pena to nail down the win in the ninth.

In that final threat, Howard doubled and Snider singled him in. After Norm Larker pinch-singled, Pena took over and got the next two men on easy outs. But John Roseboro pinch-doubled in another run before Junior Gilliam was nabbed at first.

Jerry Lynch, the Reds' best hitter right now, got the homer parade started in the first inning, evening the score, 1-1. And after Frank Robinson walked, Pete Whisenant poked one over the left field wall.

Three innings later, Dotterer slammed his first major league homer.

Brooks Lawrence collected the victory after toiling through most of the game.

There's no work for the Redlegs until Friday when the Milwaukee Braves start a three-game series with a night contest.

VICTORY SMILE. Rookie Indian pitcher Gary Bell wears a broad smile as he talked with reporters in the dressing room following his victory over Washington in Cleveland Tuesday night. The 21-year-old righthander gave up only two hits and helped himself with four straight singles as Cleveland won, 5-1. (UPI Telephoto)

Indians' Bell Hurls 2-Hitter

CLEVELAND (AP)—Only 2,660 fans were on hand Tuesday night in Cleveland Stadium for the only two-hit pitching performance by an Indian hurler this year.

Gary Bell, 21-year-old rookie, beat the last-place Washington Senators 5-1. The triumph put the Tribe in fourth place, a shade ahead of Boston.

Bell himself hit four singles—twice as many as he allowed the losers. A line drive to center by Herb Plews in the first inning and a ninth-inning single by rookie Bob Allison, playing his first major league game, were the only hits Bell allowed.

The run that spoiled his shutout resulted from a pair of bases on balls, an infield out and a sacrifice fly in the eighth inning. Bell gave no other walks and faced only 27 batters in winning his 11th against eight losses.

Rocky Colavito's 38th home run of the season in the second inning was the Tribe's narrow edge until the seventh when they tallied four, got five of their 14 hits and chased starter Pedro Ramos from the mound with his 15th loss against 14 won. The five hits were singles by Vic Power, who held his .315 average, Randy Jackson, Vic Wert and Bell and a double by Larry Doby.

The Indians are idle today and Thursday and go to Detroit Friday to open a four-game series.

Ohio Horse Wins

YONKERS, N. Y. (AP)—Demon Mary, owned by Henry and Robert Critchfield and James Caldwell of Wooster, Ohio, won the featured trot Tuesday night at Yonkers Raceway. The 4-year-old mare by Demon Hanover covered the mile in 2:05 2-5. She returned $9.50.

Ortega Slight Favorite Over Jordan Tonight

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) —Gaspar Ortega, the top-ranked welterweight challenger, was favored slightly in a scheduled 10-round bout here tonight with Don Jordan.

The fight will be televised by ABC at 10 p.m. (EDT).

Sports reporters who have watched both fighters in workouts said Ortega should enter the ring as about an 8-5 favorite.

Despite 20 knockouts, Ortega is given but a 1-3 chance to kayo Jordan, who has never been stopped in climbing to his present No. 6 position among title challengers.

Ortega, who fights out of Tiajuana, Mexico, is expected to weigh about 146 pounds at fight time — some five pounds more than Jordan.

Ortega has a 48-11-2 record, Jordan 41-11-1.

Thomas Jefferson and his wife, Martha Skelton, were parents of six children. Four died in infancy.

VICTORY SMILE. Rookie Indian pitcher Gary Bell wears a broad smile as he talked with reporters in the dressing room following his victory over Washington in Cleveland Tuesday night. Indians' Bell Hurls 2-Hitter

CLEVELAND (AP)—Only 2,660 fans were on hand Tuesday night in Cleveland Stadium for the only two-hit pitching performance by an Indian hurler this year.

Gary Bell, 21-year-old rookie, beat the last-place Washington Senators 5-1. The triumph put the Tribe in fourth place, a shade ahead of Boston.

Bell himself hit four singles—twice as many as he allowed the losers. A line drive to center by Herb Plews in the first inning and a ninth-inning single by rookie Bob Allison, playing his first major league game, were the only hits Bell allowed.

The run that spoiled his shutout resulted from a pair of bases on balls, an infield out and a sacrifice fly in the eighth inning. Bell gave no other walks and faced only 27 batters in winning his 11th against eight losses.

Rocky Colavito's 38th home run of the season in the second inning was the Tribe's narrow edge until the seventh when they tallied four, got five of their 14 hits and chased starter Pedro Ramos from the mound with his 15th loss against 14 won. The five hits were singles by Vic Power, who held his .315 average, Randy Jackson, Vic Wert and Bell and a double by Larry Doby.

The Indians are idle today and Thursday and go to Detroit Friday to open a four-game series.

Ease U.S. Tourist Curb In Hungary, Vanik Plea

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — U.S. tourist regulations to Hungary should be relaxed, Rep. Charles A. Vanik (D-Ohio) said Tuesday, because "American tourists are Voices of America which cannot be jammed."

Vanik, who just completed a tour of Russia, Poland, Hungary and Czechoslovakia, said he found few real Communists.

Americans now must get special permission to visit Communist Hungary, Bulgaria or Albania.

Regulus Missile Launched From Sub First Time

POINT MUGU, Calif. (AP)—A Regulus II missile, capable of carrying a hydrogen warhead, has been launched from a submarine for the first time.

The 57-foot, 11-ton missile swooshed up from the submarine Grayback Tuesday and flew inland to Edwards Air Force Base, about 80 miles away in Southern California's Mojave Desert.

The wheels of the 1,500 m.p.h. missile failed to lower, however, and skidded on its belly, caught fire and burned. Test models of the missile are equipped with wheels so they may be recovered after firing.

The Navy says this is the weapon that could be hurled from a sub surfacing off an enemy coast to strategic targets more than 1,000 miles inland. The Navy said Tuesday's roundabout flight was about 200 miles.

Student Council Representatives Will Be Elected

Election of representatives to East Liverpool High School will be held next Wednesday in the Sophomore, Junior and Senior Classes, George Hargraves, principal said today.

Each home room will choose a representative to serve. Bert Dawson, dean of boys, and Mrs. Ruth Connor, dean of girls, are the sponsors.

The Student Council election is a prelude to the election of class officers, he said. The primary election will be Oct. 8 and the general election Oct. 15.

The students are divided into Blue and White parties. Each class will elect a president, vice president, secretary and treasurer.

A Board of Elections is set up by the Student Council to direct the voting.

Each candidate for office must have a petition signed by members of his own party.

Other school activities such as club meetings will not begin until after the elections have been completed, Hargraves said.

You'd Be Excited Too

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Frieda the giraffe has a boyfriend now and Lincoln Park Zoo officials feel certain they'll get along just fine. Roger II, a $3,500 11-footer arrived from East Africa to be greeted with a downtown parade and a none-to-shy Frieda. COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Judge Joy Seth Hurd of Cleveland, judge of the Eighth District Court of Appeals, Tuesday was elected chief justice of the Ohio Appellate Courts for 1959.

The election came at the annual meeting of the Appellate Judges held in the Ohio Supreme Court chambers here.

Judge Hurd, who has been an appellate judge since 1946, succeeds Chief Justice William Wiseman of Dayton who sits on the Second District Court of Appeals.

Hearing, Probe Set In Pancake Landing

CLEVELAND (AP) — American Airlines planned a company hearing and the CAA scheduled an investigation today in the pancake landing of a two-engine Convair plane Tuesday at Cleveland Hopkins Airport.

None of the 20 passengers and three crewmen aboard was injured.

"The approach was normal; the landing was normal," said Capt. H. G. Boucher of Ridgeville, Conn. "During the rollout, the gear went out from under us and we came to an abrupt stop."

The plane was flight 739 from Syracuse, N. Y. to Canton, Columbus and Nashville, Tenn.

Old Town, Maine, is famous for canoes.

Hamilton Police Chief Suspended, Appeals His Case

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Hamilton is slated to lose Police Chief Albert Osborne for five days, starting today, in a suspension ordered by the city manager.

Osborne appealed the suspension to the Civil Service Commission.

His attorney contended the action of City Manager Howard Wilson was unjust, capricious, malicious and contrary to law.

Wilson, in the suspension order Tuesday, said Osborne had failed to carry out an order made by the city manager last July.

The order was to have an officer with a higher rank than that of lieutenant on duty between 9 p.m. and 5 a.m., or a lieutenant if a higher officer is unavailable.

Osborne and Asst. Chief Charles Sroufe are the only department members above the rank of lieutenant.

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — U.S. tourist regulations to Hungary should be relaxed, Rep. Charles A. Vanik (D-Ohio) said Tuesday, because "American tourists are Voices of America which cannot be jammed."

Vanik, who just completed a tour of Russia, Poland, Hungary and Czechoslovakia, said he found few real Communists.

Americans now must get special permission to visit Communist Hungary, Bulgaria or Albania.

Regulus Missile Launched From Sub First Time

POINT MUGU, Calif. (AP)—A Regulus II missile, capable of carrying a hydrogen warhead, has been launched from a submarine for the first time.

The 57-foot, 11-ton missile swooshed up from the submarine Grayback Tuesday and flew inland to Edwards Air Force Base, about 80 miles away in Southern California's Mojave Desert.

The wheels of the 1,500 m.p.h. missile failed to lower, however, and skidded on its belly, caught fire and burned. Test models of the missile are equipped with wheels so they may be recovered after firing.

The Navy says this is the weapon that could be hurled from a sub surfacing off an enemy coast to strategic targets more than 1,000 miles inland. The Navy said Tuesday's roundabout flight was about 200 miles.

Student Council Representatives Will Be Elected

Election of representatives to East Liverpool High School will be held next Wednesday in the Sophomore, Junior and Senior Classes, George Hargraves, principal said today.

Each home room will choose a representative to serve. Bert Dawson, dean of boys, and Mrs. Ruth Connor, dean of girls, are the sponsors.

The Student Council election is a prelude to the election of class officers, he said. The primary election will be Oct. 8 and the general election Oct. 15.

The students are divided into Blue and White parties. Each class will elect a president, vice president, secretary and treasurer.

A Board of Elections is set up by the Student Council to direct the voting.

Each candidate for office must have a petition signed by members of his own party.

Other school activities such as club meetings will not begin until after the elections have been completed, Hargraves said.

Hearing, Probe Set In Pancake Landing

CLEVELAND (AP) — American Airlines planned a company hearing and the CAA scheduled an investigation today in the pancake landing of a two-engine Convair plane Tuesday at Cleveland Hopkins Airport.

None of the 20 passengers and three crewmen aboard was injured.

"The approach was normal; the landing was normal," said Capt. H. G. Boucher of Ridgeville, Conn. "During the rollout, the gear went out from under us and we came to an abrupt stop."

The plane was flight 739 from Syracuse, N. Y. to Canton, Columbus and Nashville, Tenn.

Hamilton Police Chief Suspended, Appeals His Case

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Hamilton is slated to lose Police Chief Albert Osborne for five days, starting today, in a suspension ordered by the city manager.

Osborne appealed the suspension to the Civil Service Commission.

His attorney contended the action of City Manager Howard Wilson was unjust, capricious, malicious and contrary to law.

Wilson, in the suspension order Tuesday, said Osborne had failed to carry out an order made by the city manager last July.

The order was to have an officer with a higher rank than that of lieutenant on duty between 9 p.m. and 5 a.m., or a lieutenant if a higher officer is unavailable.

Osborne and Asst. Chief Charles Sroufe are the only department members above the rank of lieutenant.

Smith & Phillips
YOU CAN
Trade-In Your Old Furniture
AS YOU WOULD YOUR OLD CAR
Read The Facts

Now your old furniture can help pay for the beautiful new furniture you've been wanting

"The trouble with furniture" people say "is that it costs too much and lasts too long."
Soundly built furniture seems to refuse to "wear out". Relatively few families are in a position to discard usable furniture, to give it away or sell it for peanuts, in order to refurnish their homes with the beautiful new things they see in our store and in our advertisements. That's what makes this announcement of Smith and Phillips Trade-In plan of such significance to homemakers in this area.

Smith & Phillips will appraise your old furniture, tell you how large a trade-in allowance you can receive.
No "gimmicks," no "sleight of hand," no "flat allowances" offered regardless of the value of your furniture, no prices inflated to absorb the allowance you receive. You dial Smith & Phillips FU 5-1215 We send an appraiser to your home without the slightest obligation to you whatsoever. You then visit your Smith & Phillips store. You choose the furniture you want from one of the largest, finest, most value-conscious collections in East Liverpool. You deduct your Trade-In allowance from the prices on the tags—and if you prefer, you arrange payment of the balance to suit your convenience.

Some questions and answers
We've been discussing this plan with some of our customers. They've asked some questions that may be occurring to you now. Here they are!

Can I come in to see whether I can find the new furniture I want before you send an appraiser to my home?
Of course. You are decidedly welcome to visit your Smith & Phillips store (and if you haven't shopped Smith & Phillips lately, you're in for an eye-opening treat!) After you have made your selection, we can arrange to have an appraiser call at your home.

What if I decide not to make a purchase after you make an appraisal?
You are under no obligation at any time. If you decide not to make a purchase, we'll thank you for having given us an opportunity to be of service—and hope that you'll give us another opportunity some time soon.

May I trade-in any suite of furniture I own toward the purchase of a new suite?
Yes. For example, you can trade-in your old living room suite toward the purchase of a new living room suite; you can trade in your old bedroom for a new bedroom. Or you can trade-in your old bedroom suite for a new living room.

And here's the $64,000 question! If your prices are as low as they possibly can be, how can you afford to offer trade-in allowances?
You know what happens to your old car when you trade it in. That's exactly what will happen to you. old furniture. We plan to recondition it and resell it through our Used Furniture Departments. Our trade-in allowance will not be price discounts. They represent actual value we expect to recover through the resale of your old furniture.

May I trade-in my furniture and not purchase anything immediately?
Yes. For example, you may wish to have that old sofa out of your way, but may not be able to purchase anything right away. We will appraise the sofa and allow you an amount toward the purchase of a certain amount in the future. Let us say we allow $30.00 for the old sofa on the purchase of $150.00 at any time in the future. Your account will be marked with a credit of $30.00. If your next purchase is for $75.00 we apportion the credit or in other words, we will allow you $15.00 at that time and you will still have $15.00 credit due on $75.00 worth of purchase. Many persons have taken advantage of this unique trade-in plan in the past, but some of you may not have known of it.

Smith & Phillips
YOU CAN
Trade-In Your Old Furniture
AS YOU WOULD YOUR OLD CAR
Read The Facts

Now your old furniture can help pay for the beautiful new furniture you've been wanting

"The trouble with furniture" people say "is that it costs too much and lasts too long."

Soundly built furniture seems to refuse to "wear out". Relatively few families are in a position to discard usable furniture, to give it away or sell it for peanuts, in order to refurnish their homes with the beautiful new things they see in our store and in our advertisements. That's what makes this announcement of Smith and Phillips Trade-In plan of such significance to homemakers in this area.

Smith & Phillips will appraise your old furniture, tell you how large a trade-in allowance you can receive.

No "gimmicks," no "sleight of hand," no "flat allowances" offered regardless of the value of your furniture, no prices inflated to absorb the allowance you receive. You dial Smith & Phillips FU 5-1215 We send an appraiser to your home without the slightest obligation to you whatsoever. You then visit your Smith & Phillips store. You choose the furniture you want from one of the largest, finest, most value-conscious collections in East Liverpool. You deduct your Trade-In allowance from the prices on the tags—and if you prefer, you arrange payment of the balance to suit your convenience.

Some questions and answers

We've been discussing this plan with some of our customers. They've asked some questions that may be occurring to you now. Here they are!

Can I come in to see whether I can find the new furniture I want before you send an appraiser to my home?

Of course. You are decidedly welcome to visit your Smith & Phillips store (and if you haven't shopped Smith & Phillips lately, you're in for an eye-opening treat!) After you have made your selection, we can arrange to have an appraiser call at your home.

What if I decide not to make a purchase after you make an appraisal?

You are under no obligation at any time. If you decide not to make a purchase, we'll thank you for having given us an opportunity to be of service—and hope that you'll give us another opportunity some time soon.

May I trade-in any suite of furniture I own toward the purchase of a new suite?

Yes. For example, you can trade-in your old living room suite toward the purchase of a new living room suite; you can trade in your old bedroom for a new bedroom. Or you can trade-in your old bedroom suite for a new living room.

And here's the $64,000 question! If your prices are as low as they possibly can be, how can you afford to offer trade-in allowances?

You know what happens to your old car when you trade it in. That's exactly what will happen to your old furniture. We plan to recondition it and resell it through our Used Furniture Departments. Our trade-in allowance will not be price discounts. They represent actual value we expect to recover through the resale of your old furniture.

May I trade-in my furniture and not purchase anything immediately?

Yes. For example, you may wish to have that old sofa out of your way, but may not be able to purchase anything right away. We will appraise the sofa and allow you an amount toward the purchase of a certain amount in the future. Let us say we allow $30.00 for the old sofa on the purchase of $150.00 at any time in the future. Your account will be marked with a credit of $30.00. If your next purchase is for $75.00 we apportion the credit or in other words, we will allow you $15.00 at that time and you will still have $15.00 credit due on $75.00 worth of purchase. Many persons have taken advantage of this unique trade-in plan in the past, but some of you may not have known of it.

On Losing Legislature Grip

Ohio's GOP Concerned

By ART PARKS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Republican leaders aren't exactly shaking in their shoes, but there is a bare possibility they might lose their iron grip on the Ohio General Assembly.

The GOP isn't conceding a thing. But the signs are plain that there is some concern.

Democratic legislatures are a rarity in recent Ohio history. The last one was in 1949-50. Before that, you must go back to 1937-38 to find a General Assembly which wasn't controlled by the Republicans. Legislative control pretty largely means control of the state's pursestrings.

For all but one of his five terms, former Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche was forced to deal with a legislature dominated by Republicans.

Which party will control the 103rd General Assembly which meets in January? Only the November election will determine that.

But, barring a Republican catastrophe in Ohio, it appears at this point that the GOP should control the House, for sure, and probably the Senate.

The Senate, because of the division of representation set up in the Ohio constitution giving cities better representation than in the House, could go to either party. The margin either way, however, is likely to be narrow.

The 1957-58 Senate division is 22 Republicans and 12 Democrats. Because of apportionment changes also under the constitution, the membership will shrink to 33 next year.

Control of the Senate takes 17 votes. To lose control, Republicans must lose six votes; the Democrats must gain five.

Republican tacticians figure they have 15 "sure" candidates for the Senate and seven who could win or lose. They need only two of the doubtful candidates, they figure, to be sure of controlling the Senate next January.

Over on the House side of the state capitol, Republicans recently have held an overwhelming edge. With 139 members elected, the GOP in 1957 had a 97-42 margin - better than 2-1.

The House convening next January again will have 139 members. A majority again will be 70. To lose control, the Republicans must lose 28 seats. Again barring a GOP disaster, the loss of 28 seats seems highly unlikely.

The Ohio constitution, which given every county regardless of population at least one representative in the House, appears to give control to the rural areas. Rural Ohio is predominantly Republican.

Benefit Sale Set By Band Parents

Plans to sponsor a rummage sale were discussed when the Band parents of Wells High School at Newell met Tuesday night in the American Legion home. Mrs. Mae Hupp, president, presided.

Mrs. Mike Gibas was named chairman of the sale to be held Oct. 16-18 in the former bakery on Broadway near the Central Fire Station. Proceeds will be used for the group's uniform and instrument fund.

In other business, Mrs. Robert Ingram was named chairman of a membership drive with Mrs. Salem Grimm and Mrs. Edwin Hall co - chairmen. Committees were also named for operating a newly constructed refreshments stand at Memorial Field, beginning with the first home football game Friday night. Mrs. Ward Jackson is general chairman of the various committees.

A social hour followed and refreshments were served by Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. Eula Hutton and Mrs. Robert Ingram.

The next meeting will be Oct. 21.
